$3.1 Billion in Foreign Aid Is Requested by President

LBJ: Don't Cut Aid Program

Washington (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress for $3.1 billion in new foreign aid funds Thursday. He strongly advised legislators against cutting the big overseas assistance program.

"The programs I propose represent the minimum contribution to mutual security and international development which we can safely make," Johnson said in a special message on foreign trade for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Last year the President sought $3.39 billion but Congress chopped off $450 million. The program traditionally encounters tough going on Capitol Hill.

In pleading for $2.5 billion for economic assistance and $596 million in new arms aid for some 70 lands around the world, the President said

"There are some who say that even this request should be foregone in view of needs at home and the costs of the struggle in Vietnam

Future Vietnams

"Nothing could be more short-sighted and self-defeating."

Actually Johnson said, the program would "reduce the chances of future Vietnams" and amounts to less than seven-tenths of one per cent of the national income of America the wealthiest country in history

The presidential message continued: "Some would have us renege on our commitments to the developing countries on the ground that 'Charity begins at Home.'

"To them," Johnson said, "let me emphasize that I have recommended no charity, nor have I suggested that we stray from home." He said that from Normandy to Vietnam, history teaches that "our home is this planet and our neighbors are three billion strong."

No direct comparison with previous years' aid programs is possible because this year Johnson lumped large, unspecified amounts of arms aid funds into the regular defense budget

The President listed a variety of "guiding principles" and "new directions" which he wants Congress to write into the foreign aid law.

To carry out these principles, Johnson proposed

—Enactment of entirely new foreign assistance legislation to replace the existing law, which has been repeatedly amended over the years

—Creation of a national advisory committee on self-help to advise the government on how well aid-receiving nations are using their own resources

—The earmarking of at least 85% of economic development loans through multi-nation organizations or programs.

—Allotting $1 billion for boosting food, education and health overseas, a 25% rise above last year's foreign aid in these fields

—A shift in American aid policy in Africa, to concentrate more of the U.S. assistance on regional and multi-national projects

—"Sympathetic consideration" of a U.S. contribution to the African Development Bank's new special fund

Lawmakers to Strengthen Industry-Seeking Agency

By DICK HERMAN

Nebraska's lawmakers Thursday provided powerful assurances they intend to make the state's industry-seeking agency a more viable and perhaps effective instrument

Advanced 42-0 off general file was Sen George Gerdes' LB34, taking the Division of Resources out of the Agriculture Dept. and converting it into a full-fledged Economic Development Dept. directly under the governor.

Minutes before, senators had also passed forward Sen. Edward Danner's bill to discourage racial segregation in the Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex.

As amended and finally propelled (32-7) toward select file — or second reading — Danner's LB65 declares "the warden shall not solely on the basis of race classify prisoners confined in the penitentiary facility into separate dwelling units, except any prisoners may be isolated for insubordination, security and rehabilitation.

Omaha Sen. Clifton Batchelder's motion to kill Danner's bill fell short, 22-26, following a brief but somewhat intense debate.

Abortion Laws

Floor argumentation on the third "big" bill scheduled for review Thursday. Sen. Terry Carpenter's proposal to liberalize Nebraska's abortion laws, was put off until Monday morning.

While creation of the Economic Development Dept. is one of Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's aims, Gerdes told the Legislature a virtually identical bill was killed four years ago because of "politics."

The rebuff was administered by a Republican-dominated Legislature to the Democratic governor, Frank B. Morrison, who booked the concept.

And partisan overtones were seen in the only serious tiff over LB34. Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor last year, was beaten down, 27-8, on an amendment to insure that no more than six of the 11 departmental advisory commission could come from one political party.

Rasmussen said only by insuring the commission is bipartisan could there be any certainty of "keeping politics out."

Gerdes fought the Rasmussen amendment. So did Nebraska City Sen. Rick Budd. He saw Rasmussen as attempting to "take a nonpartisan commission and make it bipartisan." That, Budd claimed, is a way to scare off industrial contacts.

Besides being the industrial attraction arm of the governor's office, the new department would also be state government's chief planning agency.

Danner's controversial bill sprang from allegations of racial discrimination at the state penitentiary.

Lincoln Sen. William Swanson reported Warden Maurice Sigler said he had no objections to the bill in its amended version. He had earlier been an opponent.

Won't Inhibit

Danner told the Legislature he has no desire to inhibit the warden in running the penal complex. What the Omaha lawmaker, the Senate's only Negro, claimed to be the root issue is whether the Legislature will permit a small group of prisoners "to intimidate the warden, the Legislature and the state."

Sigler has reported because of fierce anti-Negro sentiment among these white convicts, no Negro inmates are housed in the East Cell House of the penitentiary. These white prisoners are said to have threatened violence if the quarters are racially integrated.

Sens. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt and Ross Rasmussen supported indefinite postponement of LB65. They contended such a step would be seen as a "vote of confidence" for the warden.

Arguing for his kill motion, Batchelder said he is dismayed by an "erosion of law authority" in recent years. He traced some of this erosion to "bad legislation to protect the hardened criminal."

Other Approvals

Other measures given first round floor approval, with the votes in parentheses, included:

LB309 — Clarifying the procedure for appealing Workmen's Compensation Court judgments to the District Courts (32-0).

LB76 — Changing filing requirements for agency rules and regulations and requring agency hearings to conform to rules of evidence applicable to the District Courts (36-0).

LB98 — Clarifying that specified annual levies of second class cities and villages are maximum and not mandatory levies (38-0).

LB99 — Changing the fiscal period of second class cities and villages to commence each Aug. 1 (36-0).

Mel Steen To Retire

Nebraska's controversial State Game Commission director, Mel Steen, said Thursday that he will retire next year.

Steen

"I've had enough," Steen said. "I wanted to quit five years ago but the Commission wouldn't let me."

Nebraska Challenges Wage Act

Nebraska has joined Maryland, Texas and Colorado in formally challenging the constitutionality of that part of the new federal minimum wage law which brings certain state workers under its coverage.

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer advised Speaker of the Legislature Elvin Adamson that his office has initiated action to become a party of a challenge suit first brought by Maryland.

By taking such a step before Feb. 10, Meyer said, Nebraska state government comes under a restraining order issued by a Maryland federal district court preventing the law from being enforced against public employes.

These are workers in state hospitals and institutions of higher education.

$1.60 in 4 Years

If these employes are covered by the 1966 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act, their minimum wage would have to be $1 per hour, climbing to $1.60 after four years

The state would also be forced to pay time and one-half rates for overtime labor, something it has never done before.

Meyer said "enforcement of the federal law appears to be an invasion of certain sovereign powers reserved to the states."

Meyer said all parties have agreed that the test case will be expedited, with the defendant U.S. Dept. of Labor scheduled to file its brief by Mar. 6, plaintiffs filing their brief by Mar. 16 and a final reply brief being due by Mar. 22.

Tiemann Receives 17 Scouts

Yearly Report Is Submitted

Seventeen Nebraska Boy Scouts, representing their scouting colleagues throughout the state, presented their annual report Thursday to Gov. Norbert Tiemann in the Governor's Hearing Room and ended up eating lunch in the executive mansion

The scouts represented Nebraska's five Boy Scout councils Barry Pilger of Brule led the delegation

During the ceremonies in the Capitol Building, the Governor urged the scouts to take an active interest in government and told them he supports the legislation to lower the Nebraska voting age from 21 to 19.

The scouts, who represented the 42,155 Cubs, Scouts and Explorers in Nebraska, started their visit to the statehouse by being introduced to the Nebraska Legislature and meeting the state senators from their districts

The group also presented the Governor with a desk set in behalf of the forthcoming World Scout Jamboree scheduled for late summer in Idaho.

The participants, in addition to Pilger, included

Warren C. Nielson II of Omaha, William J. Willeford Jr. of Fremont, William H. Bossman of Ponca, David T. Steckelberg of Stanton, Douglas A. Smeyer of Fullerton, Charles W. Genrich of Beatrice, Donald Northcott Jr. of Nebraska City, Terry A. Tarr of David City, William J. Wood of 901 F St., Lincoln, James W. Cross of Scottsbluff and Thomas Deaver of Alliance

Time Bill Is Stalled

For the third straight week, Nebraska's so-called daylight saving time bill refused to be budged out of the Legislature's Miscellaneous Subjects Committee

A special committee executive session on the bill at noon Thursday resulted in a 4-4 split on a motion to kill the measure. Sen. George Gerdes' LB92.

That action followed the failure, 3-4, of a motion to advance the bill

One of the senators declined to vote on the motion to advance.

Legislative rules require a majority of a committee's votes for positive action to be taken on any bill, one way or the other.

There was a possibility that still another committee vote on the bill would come Thursday afternoon, following public hearings on two non-time-related proposals.

To Lower Interest Rates:

'Tax Hike or Spending Reduction Necessary'

Washington (UPI) — William McChesney Martin said Thursday the Federal Reserve Board could not lower interest rates unless Congress approved "either increased taxes or a cut in expenditures."

Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve said President Johnson's request for a 6% increase in income taxes was "prudent and intelligent" but a "reduction in expenditures would be equally satisfactory" in easing inflationary pressures.

Testifying before the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, Martin said there were "no agreements, no deals" between the administration and the Federal Reserve in Johnson's efforts to lower interest rates

The administration has admitted that its request for a 6% surtax on individual and corporate income taxes is designed in part to induce the Federal Reserve (Fed) to ease tight-money policies

Martin's testimony indicated that the Fed was not coming to rush toward a reduction in interest rates. Since the sharp interest increases of last year, money and credit shortages have caused a slump in the home-building industry

Increases Defended

Martin, who often differs with the administration and Congress over economic policy, defended the Fed's increases in interest rates but admitted it would be difficult to revive the housing industry. "But it will come," he said

"We're still dealing with inflation. We have an overhang from late 1965 and 1966" in the build-up of inventories he said

By not seeking a tax increase and a cut in federal spending in 1965, Martin said "we let inflation get ahead of us."

Treaty of Friendship Called For

London (UPI) — Premier Alexei Kosygin called Thursday for a treaty of friendship between Britain and the Soviet Union

The Russian Soviet leader made his appeal in a speech to both houses of Parliament. He also called for an end to the Warsaw and North Atlantic Treaty Organizations and elimination of their military organizations

Earlier he said he saw no prospect of war between his country and Communist China and that Moscow will do all it can to maintain relations with Peking. He was replying to questions at a televised news conference

"What is happening today points to an internal struggle in China, probably under the influence of various setbacks in foreign and domestic policies, and they are probably seeking some way out in aggravation of this . . . strife," he said

The Soviet Union he said would not break diplomatic relations but it all depend on the other side."

Referring to Chinese attacks on Soviet diplomatic personnel in Peking, Kosygin said the Chinese must safeguard the lives of foreign diplomats and provide for normal working and living conditions

Tiemann Bill Ready Feb. 20?

Quick Action Is Expected

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's combination sales-income tax bill is expected to arrive on the floor of the Nebraska Legislature around Feb. 20 and move immediately to the head of the general file column

Revenue Committee Chairman J. W. Burbach provided the rough time estimate Wednesday evening following two days of testimony on the bill, LB377

That testimony was broken only by Sen. Terry Carpenter's presentation why any individual state income tax the Legislature enacts should be based on federal taxes paid, rather than taxable income, as Tiemann wants. This approach is stated in Carpenter's LB61.

Carpenter's ambition was given a greater hope of realization when Burbach said he regards an income tax base of taxes paid to be "the best provision, the easiest to administer."

Noting Carpenter and Tiemann are on a collision course on this point Burbach observed "Somebody is going to have to make concessions."

Several dozen amendments offered to LB377 during the two days of public hearing will be hashed over by the Revenue Committee in executive sessions Monday and Tuesday

Burbach said representatives of the Dept. of Justice, the tax commissioner's office and the bill drafter's office will be present as will Robert Barnett, legal counsel to the governor, and George Dworak the former state tax commissioner and now a researcher for the Legislature.

Carpenter had offered the LB61 approach as an amendment to LB377 during a marathon five-hour hearing on the latter bill Tuesday.

Separate hearing was given LB61 Wednesday during which Carpenter made these points

Lulu Had the Courage To Speak

By Charlotte L. Dulcie
As told to Leona Hands

The first time I walked into the factory, I had a feeling I didn't belong there. When I asked for Mr. Funt, the plant superintendent, I was directed to a plump, red-faced man with a big cigar between his teeth.

Dulcie

He was standing with several girls, listening to one tell a story. She finished and everyone doubled up with laughter.

"You take the cake, Belle," he said, "I don't know where you find them stories, but they're all dillies."

Then he noticed me. He introduced me to the other girls. "Meet Charlotte," he said. "I'm putting you in Belle's group. She's the fastest worker we got. Don't try to compete with her. Just let her show you how to do the work."

I could tell Belle was looking me over as I followed her to the assembly line.

I was desperately anxious to make good because I needed extra money for my mother, who was seriously ill.

I liked the work but soon realized that the other girls were different from those I knew in the small farming community where I had been raised. The conversation was full of dirty words which made me blush.

My embarrassment and lack of response annoyed Belle. She began to ride me.

The harder I worked, the worse the abuse from Belle and the others. I kept silent, but I couldn't stand them and they had nothing but contempt for me.

One night several weeks later, I poured out my heart to God, "I can't stand it another day. It's impossible. I just can't work there any longer."

The tears came and I don't know how long I sat there just feeling sorry for myself. But after a while there came a feeling

UAW Seeks Reform

Union Outlines Own Program

Detroit (AP) — Accusing AFL-CIO President George Meany of violating constitutional mandates which fail to meet his personal pleasure, the United Auto Workers (UAW) Union called Thursday for AFL-CIO "internal reform."

This left no doubt the 14 million-member UAW is only a step away from an outright walkout, which would come at an April UAW convention.

The UAW outlined an independent program it proposes to follow outside the AFL-CIO structure "to get the American labor movement off dead center."

Besides accusing the 73-year-old Meany of violating constitutional and convention mandates, the UAW expressed "deep concern that the labor movement is vegetating."

Letter to Locals

It expressed its views in a 7,000-word "letter of clarification" to its 1,500 local unions, and said "there are others in the labor movement" who share its views but are hesitant "to express disagreement publicly" and be "accused of rocking the boat of labor unity."

Clarification had been promised the membership by the UAW International Executive Board for two near-break actions it took last week.

In one, 60-year-old President Walter P. Reuther and his three top officers were ordered to sever all connections with the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

In the second, the agenda for an April convention was ordered expanded to include discussion of relations between the UAW and AFL-CIO and to give the UAW's governing board power to take whatever action it deems necessary in this regard.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, however, could beat the UAW to "action." The council meets in Miami Beach next week.

1955 Merger

In the 1930s, the old American Federation of Labor (AFL) expelled John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and others when they refused to abandon a campaign of organizing industrywide—lumping skilled, semiskilled and unskilled into a single union.

It was from this expulsion the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) grew.

Reuther and Meany brought the two together in a 1955 merger.

A complete break was avoided when Reuther was allowed to retain presidency of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Dept. which also includes the 1.2 million United Steelworkers Union, and is the largest department within the federation.

Reuther gave up his AFL-CIO vice presidency and the seat it gave him on the executive council.

The UAW Thursday called for a massive organizing crusade, social action and helping unions in trouble with employers. It is expected to announce commitment of $3 million toward accomplishment of these goals.

It said its executive board will issue "a series of specific and detailed program and policy recommendations in the coming weeks."

Population Told

Taipei (UPI) — Preliminary result of a census conducted last December placed the population of Nationalist China at more than 13.5 million persons. A spokesman said the headcount covered Formosa, the Pescadores and the Quemoy and Matsu Island groups.

Maoists Ban Tet Festivity

'Human Idols' Knocked Down

Tokyo (AP) — The Lunar New Year, normally a time in China for greeting old friends and burnishing the family idols, came Thursday to a Communist China torn by Mao Tse-tung's fight to conquer the foes of his revolutionary principles.

Provincial radio reports filtering out of the mainland told of new setbacks for the 73-year-old chairman of the Chinese Communist Party in Hupei, Shantung and elsewhere.

With traditional New Year observances banned by the Maoists, some human idols were knocked down as well. Wall newspapers in Peking reported that Marshal Chu Teh, 81-year-old co-founder with Mao of the Red army, would be hailed before a kangaroo court in the capital Friday to be humiliated for his "anti-Maoist" sins.

Japanese correspondents in Peking speculated that this would be a preliminary to Chu's removal from the chairmanship of the standing committee of the National People's Congress, normally one of China's more powerful posts.

Another Figure

Another near-legendary figure in Chinese Communism, Marshal Ho Lung, was accused of inspiring resistance to Mao in Szechuan Province.

Desertion of military men in Anhwei Province was disclosed in an open letter of the Anhwei military district headquarters reported by Hofei radio.

In Tokyo, a Japanese foreign ministry spokesman said relations between the Soviet Union and Red China have reached their "worst possible state" as a result of the violence and demonstrations in Peking during the past two weeks. But he said severance of diplomatic relations appeared to be "remote."

U.S. Casualty Toll Passes 50,000 Mark in Vietnam

Saigon (UPI) — U.S. spokesmen said Thursday 50,529 Americans have been killed or wounded in the Vietnam war and that at least 86 Communist violations of the current lunar new year truce have felled more.

They reported 1,149 U.S. casualties last week alone.

A total of 117 Americans were killed and 929 wounded last week and another 12 were reported captured or missing. It brought the six-year war total to 8,790 killed including 1,564 in non-combat accidents, 41,739 wounded and 503 listed as missing in action, they said.

The casualty figures came as spokesmen reported a wave of Communist cease-fire violations, the severest being a guerrilla ambush of a U.S. Army paratroop company Wednesday 30 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Communists kept the 173rd Airborne Brigade unit in a blaze of fire from bunkers, dugouts and sniper tree posts for four hours, inflicting "moderate" casualties.

Trap Broken

The Americans, still honoring the truce rules of firing only when fired upon, sent in fighter bombers and artillery barrages that finally broke the Viet Cong trap.

According to the spokesmen, last week's casualties included more wounded and missing than the previous week. But the number of deaths fell from 131 to 117.

The Communist death toll went up to 1,309 from 979 the previous week. Compared with the 170 South Vietnamese 15 other allied and the American deaths, the Communists lost 43 men for every free world soldier slain.

Manpower Upped

American manpower in South Vietnam rose about 7,000 to 410,000 last week, compared to an estimated 284,000 Communist troops in the country, the U.S. spokesmen said.

About 200 men of the 173rd Airborne Brigade were attacked by a smaller but firmly entranched Communist force which struck with a barrage of some 100 grenades, Claymore mines and countless volleys of small arms fire.

The battle raged for four hours. The Communists held fixed positions in bunkers and trees and capitalized on the surprise element as the GIs were moving into the area known as War Zone D, about 30 miles northeast of Saigon.

Spokesmen said the Americans took "moderate" casualties, meaning deaths or wounds were numerous but not drastic enough to destroy the effectiveness of the company.

2 Reds Killed

The guerrillas left behind two dead, spokesmen said.

The attack was but one of scores—86 by count—during the first 30 hours of the Asian new year (Tet) cease-fire. The toll was possibly the worst of not only the current truce, but earlier holiday cease-fires.

In another incident Thursday, spokesmen said U.S. 1st Air Cavalry troops at a coastal airbase were hit by a 17-minute barrage of Communist grenades and heavy automatic weapons fire.

House OKs Debt Hike

Washington (UPI) — The Johnson administration was past the major roadblock Thursday in its drive to raise the national debt limit another $6 billion.

The measure, which will enable the government to pay its March bills on time, squeaked through the House Wednesday night on a 215-199 vote.

The Senate, where Democrats hold almost a 2-1 voting edge, was expected to give quick approval to the new debt ceiling. The Senate Finance Committee opens hearings on the measure next Wednesday.

The bill would hike the temporary national debt limit from $330 billion to $336 billion, giving the administrational borrowing power between now and June 30.

LBJ Hoping 4-Day Viet Truce Might Be Extended

Washington (UPI)—President Johnson has expressed the "wish" that the four-day Vietnam truce could be extended but he left unclear just what terms the United States would attach to any extension

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected to discuss this at a 3 p m CST news conference Thursday

Johnson's statement came in reply to a new appeal from Pope Paul VI that the current four-day truce be extended to pave the way for possible peace talks.

The President did not, in so many words, propose an extension of the truce or accept the seven-day cease-fire the Communists have been talking about in his message to the Pontiff Wednesday night

I devoutly share your wish that the suspension of hostilities over the (Buddhist) Lunar New Year may be extended" he told the Pope, "and may open the way to negotiations for a just and stable peace"

He said the United States and South Vietnam, together with others, are devoting extensive efforts to this end"

The Viet Cong has declared it will observe a seven-day cease-fire South Vietnam, the United States and their allies said Jan 17 that they would observe a four-day truce, but were willing to talk to North Vietnam about extending to "seven days or longer on a properly agreed and supervised basis"

Referring to two statements by the Saigon government on this, Johnson said: "We are prepared to talk peace at any time and place in any forum with the object of bringing peace to Vietnam; however, I know you would not expect us to reduce military action unless the other side is willing to do likewise."

If all these public statements are added together and taken at face value the prospects for a truce extension may hinge on these factors

Whether the Communists do, in fact, observe the first four days of the current truce to the satisfaction of the Allies.

How they reply to the offer to talk to Hanoi about "A properly agreed and supervised basis" for any truce extension The Allies have not proposed talks directly with the Viet Cong on this.

Whether North Vietnam offers to reduce its military activities in return for a continued pause in U S bombing, which would be a part of an extended truce

25th Amendment Is On Verge of Adoption

Washington (UPI)—The 25th Amendment to the constitution was on the verge of adoption Thursday Action by only two more state legislatures will write it into law and correct a flaw existing since the birth of the republic

The proposed amendment provides for filling a vacancy in the office of the vice presidency It also sets out the procedure to be followed for the Vice President to serve as acting President whenever the President is unable to perform his duties.

Officials here believe final action by the Minnesota and Montana Legislatures is likely to give the amendment the approval of the 38 states required for ratification.

The inability section of the amendment provides that the Vice President shall become acting President whenever the President notifies the speaker of the House and the President Pro-Tempore of the Senate that he is unable to discharge his duties

Acting Chief

If the President were too ill or otherwise unable to submit the written notice, the Vice President would take over as acting President if he and a majority of the Cabinet agreed that the President could not perform his duties

A President could reclaim his office by notifying Congress that his inability no longer existed. But if the Vice President and a majority of the Cabinet disagreed, the decision would go to Congress if they served notice of their disagreement within four days.

Congress would be required to act within 21 days or, if not in session, to reconvene in 48 hours and then to act within 21 days A two-thirds vote of both the House and Senate would be required to bar the President from reassuming office

To fill a vacant vice presidential office, the proposed amenment provides only that a candidate nominated by the President must be approved by a majority vote of both the House and Senate

The amendment also explicitly provides for the Vice President to become President if the President dies or is removed from office

Meeting the Future

This week in February, on the threshold of Nebraska's 100th birthday on March 1, could mark the time the state grew up. Certainly these recent days have been remarkable in the calm and earnest manner in which a broad spectrum of the state's leadership is meeting its fiscal problems.

Leading this campaign for progress, and responsible for much of its momentum, is Gov. Norbert Tiemann, barely one month in office but already a man firmly in charge.

Giving the governor solid backing in his assault on the state's financial difficulties are the mayors of Nebraska's metropolitan cities, Omaha and Lincoln, business and agricultural leaders from across the state, the state's top labor spokesman, educators and a number of just plain citizens.

This was made clear at the two-day hearing on one of the most profound governmental changes ever contemplated in the state's century of existence, a combination sales and income tax to replace the state property tax.

The change in tax systems, of course, is mandatory as a result of last November's vote to outlaw the state property tax. Even so, the array of support for the governor's position is highly impressive and the fact that this change is being accepted calmly and resolutely, not hysterically, is a distinct credit to the leadership of the state, from the governor down.

Gov. Tiemann's position in this matter is not simply to meet a crisis created by a vote of the people; it is to go on from this crisis to what he terms "a new century of unparalleled progress."

These words by Tiemann concerning his tax proposal are indeed notable:

"It will enable Nebraska to take the measured step forward, to catch up and to become finally a state that others measure from and compare to — a genuine leader — no longer the follower. It is time to turn Nebraska loose. There is no longer justification for a policy that restricts the future. We are entering the bright years of Nebraska's progress. Today is the day of decision."

Echoing this attitude was Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen in one of the most refreshing expressions of Omaha concern for Nebraska problems ever uttered by a leader of that city.

Noteworthy, too, was the support for the governor's tax program voiced by the president of the State AFL-CIO, Richard Nisley, and by such business organizations as the Nebraska Association of Commerce and Industry, the Retail Merchants Association, the Bankers Association, and such farm groups as the Nebraska Stockgrowers Association, the Farmer's Union and the State Grange.

Nebraska will not find its deserved place in the national scheme of things by clinging to outmoded taxing systems or by pauperizing state government.

It will reach its potential heights, as Gov. Tiemann put it, through the "courageous, intelligent, and forthright manner" with which it faces its fiscal needs. At the moment, that is precisely the manner in which much of the state is reacting.

Junior College Not Rejected

Even though Lincolnites did not vote in a junior college Tuesday, there is no reason to believe the idea is wrong or objectionable to a majority of the people in the community.

Indeed, the vote showed that more than half the people going to the polls on Tuesday, 52.3%, liked the concept. The trouble is that state law, while vague on the subject, is interpreted to require approval by 55% of those voting.

In view of the complexities of the issue and what might be considered poor timing for the election, the result should not be terribly discouraging to its backers.

It does not mean that the hope of a junior college—to provide more technical vocational courses than are now available in the city's adult education program and to offer college credit for some of the academic work in the adult program—is forever lost to Lincoln.

It means that the beginning of this phase of education will be delayed by perhaps a year.

There would be no reason for the Lincoln School Board not to schedule another vote on the matter in time for it to be implemented in the fall of 1968.

Obviously, there still is much misunderstanding and lack of information on the junior college proposal.

This is indicated by the fact that much of the vote against the issue Tuesday came from areas populated largely by persons who would be most benefitted from the junior college opportunities, lower-income families whose youngsters would be least likely to attend a conventional, four-year college.

Unquestionably, the campaign just concluded has shed some light on the subject. At least, more Lincolnites now are aware that the city already has an extensive adult education program which is a distinct service to the community and which contains most of the makings of a junior college right now.

By continued and improved communications between the school officials and the public on this and other educational matters, the junior college issue should be much better understood within the next year.

During this time, too, such present imponderables as the state tax system and state aid for junior colleges will be resolved.

More immediately, the school board might take the lead in seeing that state statutes are clarified on the size of majority needed to establish a junior college in Lincoln.

It is a little absurd that the community is to be denied the accreditation opportunities of a junior college even though a majority of voters have said they want it.

Saving Legislative Time

Time is of the essence with the 1967 Legislature which faces some of the toughest decisions ever to come before a Nebraska Legislature.

It stands to reason then that the legislators should not be asked to spend time on "lost causes" or legislation which could await another session without damage to the state.

Sen. Dale Payne of Bellevue had introduced such a bill, LB313, which proposed to submit to voters next year a constitutional amendment legalizing pari-mutuel hound racing Sen. Payne checked the sentiment and decided a hearing on the bill would be a waste of time.

Then Sen. Payne announced, "We're so busy that any measure which stands no chance of enactment ought to be withdrawn." Without further ado he withdrew LB313.

He has set a precedent which other legislators would be well advised to follow.

How Come?

Lincoln—I don't believe the Interstate Commerce Commission realizes exactly what they have done in okaying Lincoln's recent cab fare increase.

A reasonable increase was needed, 5, 10 or 15%, but for the increase to go over 30%. Cabs are not a luxury to people working nights. These people can't take a bus, there are none available after midnight. They depend on cabs to keep their jobs.

President Johnson has pleaded with business and labor to be reasonable. His guidelines—3.2%. With this in mind, a 5% or 10% increase would still be within bounds. How come the Railway Commission okayed anything like this?

A CAB RIDER

Teens Not Ready

Lincoln — Today's teenager is not necessarily more responsible.

Many 19-year-olds are still in the relatively protective, disciplined atmosphere of school. At the time when the voting age was set at 21, most of those at that age had been out on their own, with full-time jobs.

Because teens marry is no sign they are grown up. In one study, it was found that in over two-thirds of the divorce cases heard, the couple had married when the bride was under 21. This could show poor judgment or unstabilized values.

Many teens marry, not because they want to accept responsibility or know what they are getting into, but because the girl is pregnant.

Do not lower the voting age.

Sad Affair

Lincoln—It is indeed a sad affair that several of our large supermarkets have decided against Almighty God in favor of almighty dollar.

This action can only cause others to go along until the day when we shall have complete Lord's Day desecration.

WM. E. DETWEILER

D.S.T. Not Confusing

Lincoln—There have been several ridiculous arguments against the Daylight Saving Time bill, but C. L. Peckham's letter (Public Mind, Feb. 7) was an insult to the intelligence of Nebraskans.

Peckham said that if people want more time after work for recreational activities all they have to do is get up one hour earlier and quit work one hour earlier.

The vast majority of people can't set up their working hours to please themselves. They start and stop work on a schedule beyond their control.

About the only people to whom living by a fixed schedule does not apply are farmers, and this is probably why they are usually the loudest complainers about Daylight Saving Time.

Daylight Saving Time is only confusing to those people who are too uninformed to understand a simple manipulation of the hands of a clock.

State Parks: No Showcase

By W. E. HAYDON
Of Lincoln
State Director National Campers & Hikers Assn.

The Waldron Bill to reorganize the State Game Commission is the first ray of hope to thousands of users of public parks and recreation areas in Nebraska, to gain some realistic control of the now untouchable commission. To thousands of tourists, our state parks should be the showcases of Nebraska.

As state director of a national family camping organization of 33,000 American families, we have discussed state park facilities with our counterparts throughout the United States. We have little to compare with a majority of the states in the Great Plains and the Midwest.

Broad Appeal

One state recently published figures indicating that travel through their states, situated adjacent to a very popular vacation state, brought $360 million of income to its businesses. Their program was one of broad appeal, not slanted to one activity. The state found that by attractive surroundings, getting the visitor to stay just one more day, in 1966 added $125 million to the economy. It added 60,000 jobs to the economy. Their state parks have full camping facilities of the highest quality and quantity.

Our hunting friends have great regard for the attention given their inquiries. Hunting does not require more than advertising costs, does not require maintaining physical facilities, etc.

States adjacent to Nebraska use as a part of their penal honor system, the labor of men to develop park and recreation areas. This has been suggested in Nebraska, without comment or reply.

It is difficult to understand the philosophy of the present Commission, and its executive director, as communication with the group does not exist, at their level, since a number of our chapter members have directed letters to the director, making inquiries, offering suggestions. Not one letter has been acknowledged nor question answered.

It is doubtful if any one group of men or any individual should prevail in the use of tax funds, use fees and other public funds, so immune to a public accounting of stewardship.

Game hunting is but a small part of the entire recreation public appetite. It is done on private land. The fee income does not benefit anyone but the Commission in its present non-communicated, non-accounted activities.

If camping facilities were honed to as fine an edge of attention and satisfaction, the showcase of Nebraska would bring many tarrying visitors to this state.

Better Facilities

The Commission needs a new stance. Rest room facilities at Nebraska Parks have been recalled to us by out-of-state campers as most primitive.

* * *

To create a sensitivity to the public users, some changes must exist if the showcases of Nebraska are to be acceptable and commended by our out of state visitors. Information centers, with hand-outs in color, the Western motif, the old-fashioned privy, and minimum primitive facilities are not what today's tourist-camper expects.

JAMES J. KILPATRICK'S Opinion

On State Governments

One of the season's most engaging, infuriating, and truthful books is newly at hand. It is Frank Trippett's "The States United They Fell." If our state legislators were given to reading books—which alas is a pastime that appeals to few of them—Trippett's wry and cynical work would send them climbing up the walls.

Kilpatrick

His thesis is that state government as it is manifested in the state legislatures is a farce. In his view, the legislatures are composed of second-rate men put in office by an apathetic electorate.

For the most part, these legislators are not engaged in passing wise and constructive laws of benefit to the whole people; they are rather engaged in celebrating a conventional orthodoxy and in serving their true constituencies, which are the special interests. The legislators, when they are not simply clowning around, are obsessed with what he terms "micropiha" which is to say, with inconsequential bills of insignificant value.

All told, it is quite an indictment. And the devil of it is that much of what Trippett has to say is as true as it is undeniable. As a general proposition, people have small interest in their state legislatures. The ordinary man in the street might with some difficulty recall the name of his U.S. representative; he probably could identify his U.S. senators, or at least one of them; but he could no more name his delegates to the state assembly than he could name the Plantagenet kings.

Yet the illusion persists—the illusion itself is part of the community orthodoxy—that the state legislatures are close to the people. In the Supreme Court's grandiloquent phrase, they are "the fountainhead of representative government in this country." Trippett finds the fountainheads clogged up. The typical legislature, he concludes is remote from the people.

Yet for all its incisive wit and professional instruction, Trippett's book suffers fatally: from an excess of objectivity. He is an iconoclast, a debunker. It is not a bad trade. If we assume that truth is better than fiction, and that reality is more to be praised than illusion, so excellent a pathologist as Trippitt doubtless performs a service in dissecting the body politic.

But is this gentleman's compendium of truth about the state legislatures the whole truth? By no means. Are the criticisms he heaps upon the statehouses unique to these institutions? Not at all.

The state legislatures, in my own view, are a tolerably faithful reproduction of the voters, warts and all. In season and out, the lawmakers are no more hypocritical than the people who put them in office. They are as virtuous, as public-spirited, as selfish, as unselfish, as short-sighted as the whole of mankind. Certainly statehouses resound with debate that offends the intellectually fastidious man, but the offense is not indigenous to state capitols.

If the states are "dribbling along in eddies of obsolescence," so is the Congress, so is the House of Commons, so indeed are we all. The wonder is not that state government has declined so notably as an institution, but that it has succeeded so well in mirroring the hopes and vanities and illusions that clothe mankind against the shivering, naked truth.

Washington Notes

One income item does startle some, according to Peter Lisagor of the Chicago Daily News. This is the one listed as "fees for the use of the character 'Smokey Bear' by private enterprise . . ."

The idea of using a bear as a symbol of forest fire prevention was conceived in 1944, and Smokey came off the drawing board of Artist Albert Staehle, wearing his familiar hat and dungarees, pouring water on a fire with the caption: "Smokey says — care will prevent 9 out of 10 forest fires."

Smokey got into the money-making business in 1952 through an unprecedented act of Congress because there was fear that commercial interests, eager to produce Smokey Bear items for retail sale, might somehow damage his name and character. So the 52nd Congress passed a law requiring that every use of Smokey's image had to be licensed and for a fee.

In the last 10 years Smokey has earned $250,000 in royalties, all of which has been plowed back into the campaign to prevent forest fires.

The status of women in Congress leaves something to be desired, at least for those Congresswomen who want to exercise the right to exercise. In the beautifully appointed House gym there are no locker rooms for the 11 women in the House.

Rep. Patsy Mink, a trim Democrat from Hawaii, is one who would like the place turned over to the women members for just a few hours a week, but the men won't agree. The men have a powerful argument; there are 424 of them as against 11 women.

Recently a letter was sent out to members of the House inviting them to a new series of calesthentics classes. Rep. Charlotte Reid, R-Ill., Mrs. Mink and Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., responded and marched into a gym anteroom, stating they had come in response to the invitation.

Gym director, Herbert Botts, was visibly jarred and hurried them out, explaining they had already penetrated the defenses of the all-male establishment more than was proper. "The men come out there in various stages of dress to make telephone calls and things," Botts said.

The ladies had made their point but it seems likely they will have to continue to do their push-ups in their apartments or offices.

A Choate prep school student will have one embarrassing moment he will long remember. Before taking off for Paris, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy visited this school which had been attended by his late brother.

While being taken on the rounds by the headmaster, the senator asked to see the room once occupied by John F. Kennedy. When the door was opened, the interior was a chaotic shambles of books, clothes etc. And standing at respectful attention was a horrified youngster who had just showered, was dripping wet and in his birthday suit.

The senator, concentrating his attention on the disarray, said diplomatically, "I see it hasn't changed much. The place looks just like it did when my brother lived here."

It could be Bobby sewed up a vote for 1972.

100 YEARS AGO TODAY

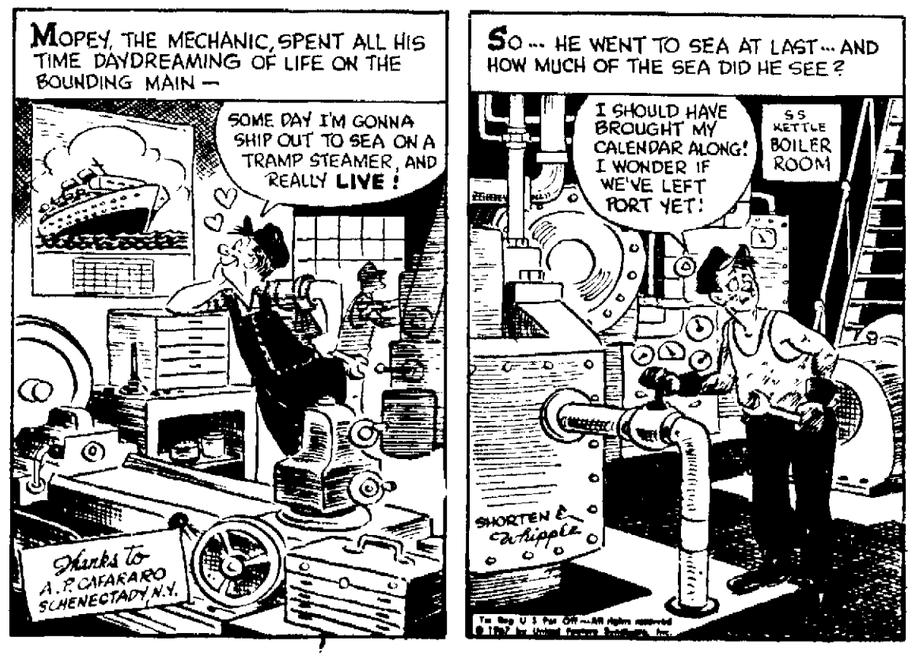

Theatre Comes To Lincoln

"This evening's performance at Potter's Theatre witnesses the first appearance of the celebrated actor, Mr. C. W. Couldock, in his truly great character of 'Luke Fielding' in Bourcicault's great play of 'The Willow Corpse'. The renowned Madame Celeste introduced this play in this country in 1851, and Mr. Couldock is the original 'Luke Fielding'. Mr. Couldock has portrayed 'Luke Fielding' upwards to five hundred times; and though others have attempted it, none have ever approached his admirable delineation of the great character he has created. The entire strength of Mr. Potter's two companies is cast in the play, and we look for a faithful portrayal of all the characters.

"Mr. Walter Bray appears in some favorite Ethiopian acts, and the laughable farce of 'The Pleasant Neighbor' concludes the evening's bill."—The Nebraska Republican, Omaha, Nebr., Feb. 9, 1867.

Bill to Hike Top Court Justices Total Killed

A proposed constitutional amendment to increase the number of Nebraska Supreme Court justices from seven to eight was killed on a 5-0 vote by the Legislature's Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

The committee also voted 5-0 to hold another bill in committee for amendment that would put election and appointment of county judges under the state's merit plan for selecting judges.

Committee members voted unanimously to indefinitely postpone LB332, which would increase the number of Supreme Court justices, after only two witnesses testified on the bill, one for and one against it.

State Sen Arnold Ruhnke, co-sponsor of the bill with Sen Richard L Ely, said he thought the number of justices should be increased to avoid the "trend" toward an increased number of split decisions by the court where one judge, in effect, decides an issue

He said the number of decisions decided by a 4-3 vote has been increasing during the past 10 years

Lincoln attorney Edward Carter Jr., appearing on behalf of the Nebraska Bar Assn., opposed LB332, stating it would present more potential problems than it was aimed at correcting.

Since his father is a Supreme Court justice, Carter said, he has tried cases before the Nebraska Supreme Court when there were only six justices

In one of these, he said, the court voted 3-3 on the issue. In that case, as rules of the court dictate, a tie vote means the lower court decision is affirmed

This could possibly happen more often with eight justices, he said, and result in the law being interpreted in two entirely different ways in lower courts if the high court always split 4-4.

No one appeared in opposition to LB333, introduced by Ruhnke and Ely, to put Nebraska's county judges under the merit plan for election and appointment.

Under the merit system a special committee names candidates for openings on the Supreme Court, District Courts and Municipal Courts and one is then appointed by the governor.

After serving two years in office the judge then runs for re-election on a "Yes" or "No" vote for retaining him in office.

Jefferson County Judge William J. Panec, who asked Ruhnke to introduce the bill, said other judges in the state are now under the merit plan and he thinks county judges should be elected under it also.

Otoe County Judge George Stanley, also chairman of the Nebraska County Judges Assn, urged passage of the bill "because it's somewhat embarrassing to campaign if you're a judge."

The committee decided to hold the bill for a possible amendment after the League of Women Voters questioned whether existing law on the method of selecting judges may have to be altered to apply to county judges.

In a letter to Ruhnke the League noted present law calls for a committee of six from the district the judge would represent that would include three resident attorneys.

However, it said, three Nebraska counties do not have any resident attorneys and another nine counties have only one resident attorney each.

Dog Racing Measure Is Left at Post

By Associated Press

The dog racing issue died quietly Wednesday in Nebraska's Legislature.

Sen. Dale Payne of Bellevue received legislative permission to withdraw his LB313, which proposed to submit to voters next year a constitutional amendment legalizing pari-mutuel hound racing.

"I don't think it (the bill) had a chance," explained Payne. "I've checked the sentiment in this body and I think that to hold a public hearing on the bill would be a waste of the committee's time and my time.

"It's an extremely controversial bill and two years ago the hearing took a full afternoon.

"We're so busy that any measure which stands no chance of enactment ought to be withdrawn."

Nebraska's constitution permits pari-mutuel horse racing but does not permit such betting on dog races.

Planning Unit Recommends Fertilizer Facilities Okay

Fertilizer and farm chemical facilities may be allowed in the rural areas of Lancaster County by special permit.

The City-County Planning Commission recommended to the City Council that the zoning ordinances be amended to permit the location of such facilities.

If approved, liquid and solid fertilizers, herbicides, insecticides and other chemicals used in farming operations would join anhydrous ammonia services in the special permit category in AA rural and public use districts.

Previously, the storage and sale of the other farm chemicals had been confined to designated farm service centers.

The commission acted on the advice of its rural advisory committee, which recommended that the other related uses be permitted along with anhydrous ammonia services.

The committee also recommended that ammonia storage tanks not be permitted within 660 feet of any existing residence other than the owner's.

The commission issued a conditioned recommendation of approval of a special permit request by Vern F. Anderson to install anhydrous ammonia tanks on 27th St., north of Superior.

The recommendation is subject to a favorable vote by the council on the zoning ordinance amendment.

Commission members turned down the planning department's request to rezone a large tract of land on the east side of No. 14th in the vicinity of Euclid Ave from G local business to A-2 single family dwelling.

Permit Owned

Owner of the property, Mrs. Lois Pegram, holds a special permit to develop a nursing home and retail facility on the site. The project has been in the planning stages for two years.

Attorney Don Marti, representing Mrs. Pegram, said the land was purchased on the basis of commercial zoning.

"It would be highly unjust to deprive her of the privilege to proceed on the basis of her planning," Marti argued.

In other action, the commission adopted the 1967 county road program and reported no serious deviations from the Comprehensive Plan.

Commission members urged the paving of access roads to reservoir recreation sites at Emerald, Denton and Raymond.

Other planning commission recommendations:

—Change of zone from G local business to A-2 single family dwelling on properties at the intersection of Euclid Ave and No. 14th St., denied.

—Change of zone from G local business to AA rural and public use on the northwest, southwest and southeast corners of West Van Dorn and Coddington Ave., and from AA rural and public use and G local business to G-1 planned commercial on the northeast corner, deferred.

—Change of zone from L heavy industry to A-1 single family on a large tract bounded by Highway 2, 48th, Old Cheney Road and 40th, deferred.

—Change of zone from A-2 single family to F restricted commercial on the east side of 56th, south of P, approved.

—Change of zone from AA rural and public use and A-2 single family to H-2 highway commercial on lots on the west side of Northwest 27th St., at West Q St., approved.

—Change of zone from A-1 single family to A-2 single family on Spruce St., between 46th and 47th, approved.

The above changes of zone were proposed by the planning staff to correct deficiencies in the zoning map.

—Final plat, Al Larson subdivision, approved.

—Special permit requested by Vern F. Anderson to install anhydrous ammonia and liquid fertilizer storage tanks on the east side of 27th, north of Superior, approved subject to action by the City Council.

$2.2 Million Road Bid Opening Slated Mar. 2

By Associated Press

A trimmed list of highway projects worth an estimated $2,250,000 was placed on the bidding block by the State Roads Dept. Thursday. Bids will be opened Mar. 2.

Because of the cutback in federal highway funds, it will be the first highway bid letting since December, and some large projects were cut from the March list, the Department said.

Less than half of the funds to be spent on the newly-proposed projects would come from federal sources, it noted.

Some of the largest projects authorized for bids included asphaltic concrete surfacing of 2.5 miles of relocated State Highway 19 southwest of Sidney and work on 8.9 miles of State Highway 70 between Westerville and the Valley County line and on seven miles of State Highway 67 between Nemaha and Shubert.

The projects up for bid, by county, listing mileage involved, if any, location and type of work (US-United States, N-Nebraska) include:

Want Changes?

'Go Out And Meet Public'

Park and Rec Officials Told

Park and recreation delegates meeting in Lincoln were told by a national official to go out and meet the public, face to face, if they want changes.

LeGasse

Alfred LeGasse, executive director of the National Recreation and Park Assn., of Washington, spoke at the open session of the Mid-Continent and Mid-West Regional Park and Recreation Assn. conference on effective communications being held at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

"Seldom will mass media alone cause changes," said LeGasse. "Use mass media to get changes to occur through opinion leaders."

LeGasse told the some 50 delegates that the single power relationship structure for administrative organization can get the most done.

Mayor Dean Peterson welcomed the group to Lincoln and praised the city's park system and the city park department headed by Acting Director James Ager.

The mayor said Ager's leadership has helped to give the city a "fine park system" and added "Lincoln has been fortunate to have competent people to serve on different boards and committees like the park and recreation advisory board."

Tax Work Funds Gain

By Associated Press

A bill making funds available for preparations for administration of a sales or income tax received first-round floor approval in the Legislature Wednesday.

The measure, LB555, reappropriates $662,028 of a fund first allocated two years ago to finance administration of the ill-fated 1965 Income Tax Act. The money went unspent when a referendum petition effort blocked implementation of the act.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, Revenue Committee chairman, sponsored LB555.

Nine other relatively noncontroversial bills were advanced from general file before adjournment. They included:

LB211 — Authorizing savings and loan associations to participate with other lenders in making loans.

LB191 — Allowing counties to put county superintendents on a part time basis.

LB221 — Allowing Lancaster County School District No. 3 to buy about two acres of land from the Department of Institutions.

LB147 — Giving limited eminent domain powers to watershed conservancy districts.

LB149 — Adding another member, representing municipal and industrial interests, to the State Soil and Water Conservation Commission.

LB188 — Variously revising authority granted directors of ground water conservation districts.

LB75 — Making the Department of Administrative Services instead of the secretary of state's office the depository for oaths taken by government employes.

LB203 — Providing that a convicted municipal court misdemeanor defendant shall recover costs when acquitted on appeal to district court.

LB229 — Making court holidays conform permissively to state government holidays.

G.I. Always on Short End; Now His Nurse May Be Man

By BILL TILLINGHAST

According to Hollywood movie tradition the wounded soldier in a war zone hospital invariably falls in love with the Army nurse.

Part of his incentive to get well then, Hollywood says, is to request permission to marry the nurse so they can live happily ever after.

So, maybe it did happen a few times.

But today's G.I. better take a good look first because the odds are one in five he'll change his mind fast, particularly if he sees a couple of Nebraskans.

The Army established its Nurse Corps 66 years ago this month and for the first 54 years a hospitalized soldier could be assured there would be some femininity around the hospital ward.

In 1955, however, the Army opened its nursing ranks to men.

Since then the Corps has grown to more than 4,300 nurses of whom 950 are men.

And while Nebraska Army recruiters still keep signing up the female type nurses — 26 in the state in 1966 — they also keep an eye out for guys like Charles Thompson of the University of Nebraska, Hugh Hyberger of St. Elizabeth Hospital and Keith Mercer of Lincoln General Hospital.

Mercer and Hyberger, student nurses, will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Nurse Corps directly on passing state board examinations after graduation from the hospitals' schools of nursing.

Thompson will transfer to the University of Maryland for his junior and senior years while he interns at Walter Reed Army Hospital and then be commissioned.

Army recruiters point out that the opportunity for qualified nurses or student nurses to become an Army nurse has increased greatly in the last three years.

Not only is the number of men under arms greater because of the Vietnam conflict but the need for nurses, male and female, has jumped considerably since one-third of all Army nurses are now serving in Vietnam.

Male nurses do have certain advantages over their female counterparts, according to Capt. Joan Jensen of the Corps regional recruiting office in Des Moines.

Capt. Jensen said male nurses can more easily restrain violent patients, do manual labor when necessary and, in a war zone, can be billeted right along with regular troops.

And so while there will still exist some doubt in the G.I.'s mind on whether to address most nurses as Sir or Ma'am, when he talks to nurses Thompson, Mercer and Hyberger he better stick with the standard military answer: Yes Sir.

Housing 'Spurt' Is Reported

Five Starts In Eight Days

Lincoln's home building and home loan industries reported Thursday that an increased activitiy in new housing ownership has returned here, much earlier than previously expected.

It is attributed primarily to easing of Federal Home Loan Bank restrictions upon mortgage money, and increasing home loan savers attracted by greater earning power.

One major home loan firm here, for example, is paying 4½% interest on regular savings and 5¼% on six months certificates of minimum $5,000 deposits.

Another leading mortgage money lender said the Federal Home Loan Bank's lifting of lending maximums clamped on this time last year has the greatest effect in his opinion.

Home mortgage loaners generally said the request for loan money in recent days and weeks "is encouraging. Let's hope it will continue."

From the builders' side, President Les Lindburg of the Lincoln Home Builders Assn. said the upward trend is forecast by February home permit activity thus far: five new starts in eight days, compared to five for all of January among association membrship.

Instead of a mid-summer renewal of home building activity, Lindburg continued, it looks as if the "past year's drought of home consttciuron will be over in a matter of a few months."

Lincoln's new housing unit construction dropped in 1966 to half of its 1963 record of more than 1,000 new dwellings.

Part of this cutback was deliberate by the builders as a way of absorbing loss of population and income anticipated by closing of the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Also contributing to the general predicament was the reluctance of some potential homeowners who believed construction costs might go down.

Every local and national trend indicates this isn't likely to happen. Rather, costs are expected to rise about $1,000 annually the next three years.

Homebuilder President Lindburg said there is every reason for the industry to be optimistic now "that mortgage money, life seed of the industry, is moving back into the market.

"This flow of funds occurred faster than had been anticipated and is welcome news to home buyers and builders."

THE LINCOLN CATHOLIC Board of Education is studying plans to restructure their school system which would make Pius X a four-year high school and have the elementary schools contain grades one through eight, according to Rev. James Dawson, diocese school superintendent.

School Board

Hopkins Seeks Post

'Public Not Told of Goals'

J. Herbert Hopkins, 43, an associate general counsel of Bankers Life Nebraska, has announced his candidacy for membership on the Lincoln Board of Education.

The new school board candidate said his decision to run for the office was based on a strong feeling that the present board and administration is not adequately informing the public of its goals and problems.

In his opinion, this lack of adequate communications is responsible for the failure of the special junior college election Tuesday. He said the same lack of communication exists between board-administration and teachers.

Hopkins, a graduate of Lincoln High School and the University of Nebraska and Law School, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa, is active in Community Chest and Lincoln General Hospital boards chairman of the Nebraska Bar Assn.'s legislative committee and an elder in Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Hopkins and his wife, Alex, with their children, Jackie, 19, Chris, 17, and David, 11, live at 5035 Glade St.

ber of a constitutional amendment permitting the state income tax to be tied to the federal tax surprised him, but must be interpreted as an indication that voters prefer this approach. Carpenter had feared that any proposal which even mentioned income taxes would be defeated.

—The 10% tax rate called for in LB61 is arbitrary and would need to be adjusted. But the income tax, rather than the sales tax, should be the "open end" tax, whose rate would be adjusted to meet the dollar demands of government.

Only three witnesses appeared to testify on LB61 and none voiced outright opposition, although at least some preference to the LB377 approach was voiced.

Following the LB61 hearing, the committee resumed testimony taking on LB377, receiving offered amendments from persons who could not be heard Tuesday.

Amendments came from representatives of the telephone industry, the insurance industry, theater owners, the Western Power and Gas Co., home builders, new car dealers and retail merchants.

Tax Paid Direct

Keith Andresen, manager of the Nebraska New Car Dealers Assn., proposed that the sales tax on new automobiles purchased be paid directly to the county treasurer at the time the vehicle is registered, instead of being collected by the dealer.

Allen Beam of Lincoln, representing the State Association of Home Builders, proposed exemption of building materials going into the construction of a new home.

Chamber Backs Air Plan

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the proposed air pollution control ordinance now before the City Council for action.

This endorsement, to be communicated to city hall, came after a review of the air controlling measure by the Chamber's business expansion committee.

A poll of the Chamber's executive committee gave the Chamber's now-official position on the ordinance.

It was noted the continuing work of the ordinance drafting committee with Lincoln business and industry has produced a document aiming for the best control of pollution, yet is not unreasonable in its demands.

The business expansion committee meeting of the Chamber also resulted in appointment of a special subcommittee to survey and evaluate the city's source of labor.

Its report in March to the committee will determine of Lincoln is low on all types of labor and what the Chamber can do to correct or prevent shortage.

of peace. And then the words, 'But you haven't really tried to tell them of Me.'"

The next morning was a blur as my thoughts raced and my head pounded. Lunch came. I let the other girls go in first, then I walked into the midst of them.

The room had grown quiet, much too quiet. I cleared my voice and turned to Belle. "I'm not very good at saying things," I began. "And I don't know how to get along with most people. It isn't because I don't want to be friends. I don't know how."

My eyes began to fill with tears. Angrily I brushed them away.

"I came here to work because I needed this job. I never worked in a factory before. What you girls say and do is all strange to me. Most of all I don't like dirty jokes.

Someone told me to pretend I do and laugh with everyone else. I suppose I could learn to do this after awhile but there is something else that will always keep me from doing it."

Precious Words

The room was completely still now. I gulped and went on.

"There are certain words you use all the time. God and Jesus. You say them as swear words. To me these words are very precious. When I hear the Lord's name used this way it makes me feel sick inside.

I tell myself that you really don't mean to take His name in vain, that in your way, you may be as good as or a better Christian than I am. But every time I try to reach out to be friendly, something you say makes me freeze inside. Do you have to use this kind of language?"

The hardness was gone from Belle's face. "Eat your lunch, Lulu," she said to me gently. Then she turned to the other girls.

"If there is one thing I like in a person it's courage. Lulu has it. What she just said took guts. What's more I think she's right. Our talk has been pretty bad, and mine has been the worst. It's time we changed."

The atmosphere in the factory did change in the weeks that followed. Not that all the profanity stopped, but it did around me.

To my surprise, Belle and several other girls whom I considered so crude at first, became my close friends.

Months later, however, I had to quit my job and give full-time care to my mother. To my amazement, the girls gave me a dinner. It was Belle who said the farewell speech.

"Lulu, you put me in my place once. But you did it like a lady. I thank you for that and for the way you stand up for what you believe. And, Lulu, I always want to be your friend."

College Tuition Hearing 'Packed'

More than 100 students packed the hearing room as the Legislature's Education Committee debated a resolution that would establish tuition policies at state colleges and universities.

After prolonged arguments and questioning of witnesses the resolution was held by the committee for further study.

The resolution, LR6, introduced by Sens. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper and Richard Marvel of Hastings, would limit tuition to one-third of the instructional cost for residents and two-thirds of the cost for non-residents.

Tuition for graduate students would be limited to 20% of the cost.

The eight-point resolution would also establish the principles that:

—The state should provide facilities for higher education for all high school graduates in the state.

—Students should finance all residential costs.

—Out-of-state student enrolment should be limited to ensure educational facilities for resident students.

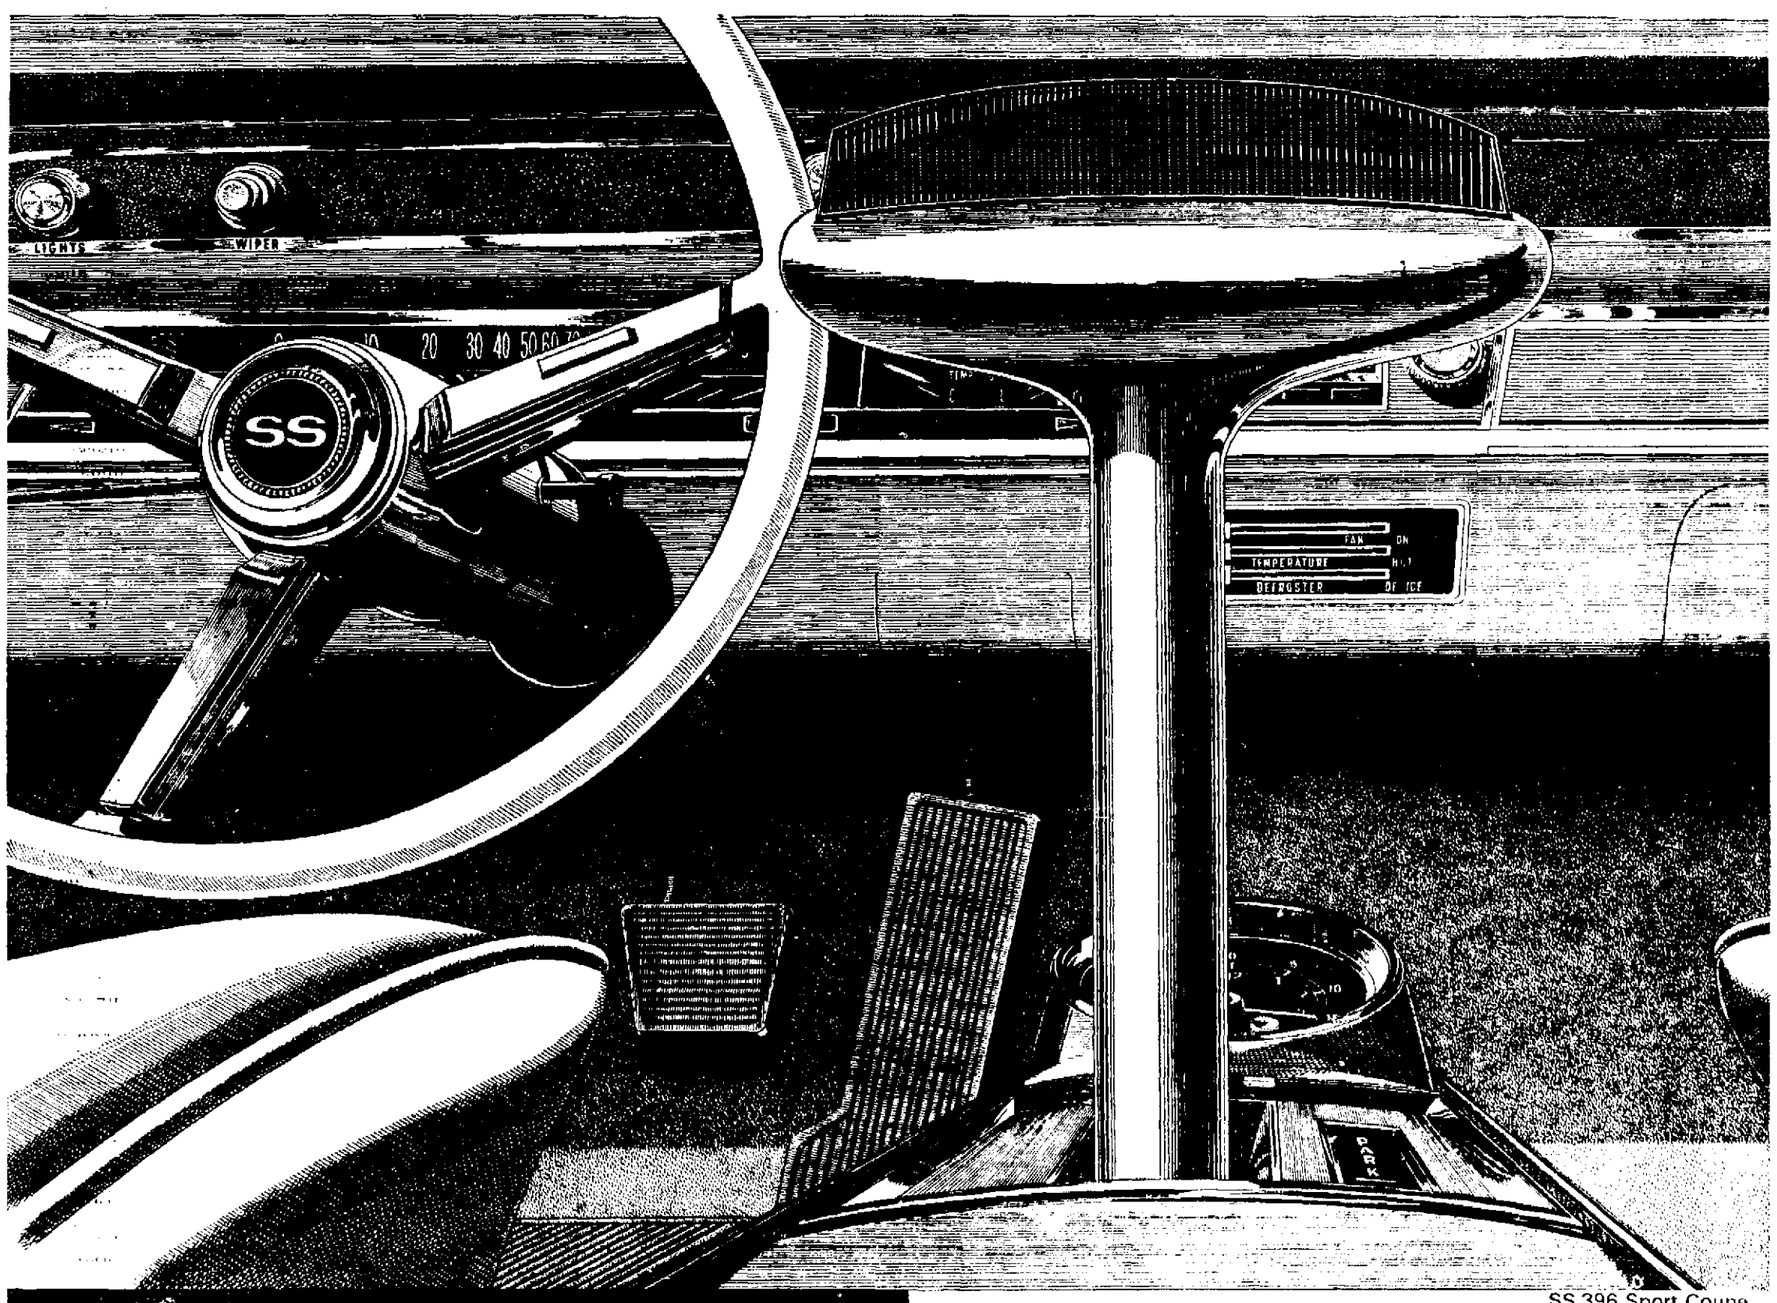

—Nebraska students should be encouraged to enter junior colleges near their homes with the state paying up to one-third of the cost of academic programs.

Speaking for the resolution were Sens. Rasmussen and Marvel; Dr. Joseph Soshnik, vice chancellor of the University of Nebraska for administration; Terry Schaaf, president of the Associated Students of the University of Nebraska; ASUN Sen. Curt Bromm; NU Student Leonard Huss; and Freeman B. Decker, coordinator of state colleges.

Don Lienemann of Papillion spoke in favor of the principles but objected to the high share of educational costs that would come from taxes.

Soshnik said the $334 annual tuition at NU pays either 40 or 43% of the cost of undergraduate instruction, depending on how costs are computed.

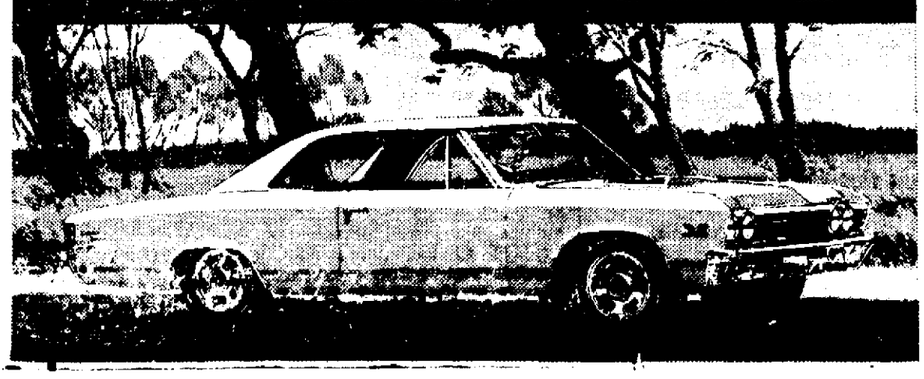

The committee also advanced to general file LB230, permitting state and area vocational technical schools to issue revenue bonds for dormitories and activities buildings.

Accurate Bids Decide Scores

By HOWARD SCHENKEN AND RICHARD L. FREY

Accurate judgment in competitive bidding situations decides many rubbers. You cannot afford to let the opponents buy a hand when your side ought to be declarer. Nor can you afford to concede a penalty when you could have set your opponents instead.

In this quiz, you can check your judgement against that of World Champions because all these situations occurred in the World Team Championship match between Italy, the winner, and North America.

Answers to Bridge Quiz

a. Pass. This knife-edge decision was taken correctly by Bob Hanman of Van Nuys, Calif., and was followed by a fine defense which set the Italian declarer and won 12 IMPs for our squad. At the other table, N-S bid five diamonds, and the phantom save cost 500. Possession of the trump ace was a key factor in favor of Hamman's pass, since it increased the chances of a ruffing trick for the defenders.

b. Pass. Although South has 9 high-card points that he hasn't said anything about, chances are that North expects South to hold a few points and is acting accordingly. Italy gained 6 IMPs with Walter Avarelli's pass on this deal, for our pair got too high at the other table.

c. Three spades. The factor that guided Sammy Kehela of Toronto was that most of his high-card points were in the black suits, where North was known to hold at least nine cards. North landed the spade partial; had West been allowed to play three diamonds, he too would have made nine tricks.

d. Pass. Phil Feldeman of New York City allowed Italy to buy the hand in three spades, which was set one trick. At the other table, Pietro Forquet elected to bid four clubs, which was also set one trick.

e. Double. Despite the favorable vulnerability situation, Giorgio Belladonna doubled for takeout, hoping North could produce a response of two spades. North did—and made his contract while E-W made a heart partial at the other table.

Record of Shots Should Be Kept

New York (UPI)—When did your children have their last diphtheria-tetanus-whooping cough shot? Their tuberculin test?

The American Academy of Pediatrics says it is important that parents have this information readily available. The academy recently sent its members wallet-sized plastic immunization record cards.

On the card are places to list such items as blood group, RH factor, significant sensitivities. It also breaks down by age all the immunizations a child should receive, with a space for the date next to each.

- ½ Cup halved candied cherries
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Ann Landers.... Answers Personal Problems

After That 5-Star TV Show You Must Enjoy Bandages

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for six years. I am 21. Sam is 26. The problem is his temper.

If the car won't start, Sam will break the windshield with his fist or kick a dent in the fender. The shirts had better be ironed perfectly or he will tear them to pieces. Once, when the TV broke, he hit me with the antenna and I had to have 22 stitches in my leg.

It is because of a recent night that I am writing this letter. I was sitting in the rocking chair reading and all of a sudden Sam yelled, "I can't stand that squeaking noise." He picked up the rocking chair with me in it and heaved it out the front door. My head hit the cement steps and I'm lucky to be alive.

My friends say Sam is a nut and I am crazier than he is for putting up with him. Can you help me?

Purple Heart Ache

Dear Purple: Probably not, because I'm afraid your friends are right. If you didn't switch channels after that 5-star TV performance you must enjoy wearing bandages. So just keep with the lunatic and keep your health and accident insurance up—because you're going to need it.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I am a mother with three children under five years of age. They are all sick today because a stupid, inconsiderate relative brought over two youngsters with running noses and hacking coughs.

One of the young visitors was red as a beet and I'm sure he had a temperature. I wouldn't think of taking my children any place when they aren't well. How can some mothers be so dumb?

Just Fuming

Dear Just: Motherhood is one accomplishment that requires no brains. It is virtually impossible to protect your children against the germs of other children. If some visiting kid doesn't cough in your children's faces, somebody in school will. Your best bet is to see that your youngsters get enough rest, are well-nourished and properly clothed.

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do to keep my mother from ruining my little sister's life as she ruined mine?

I dropped out of school at 15 because my mother was always sick and I had to stay home to take care of her. I flunked so many subjects that finally I gave up.

Now my little sister is falling into the same trap. I would give anything in the world to help her, but I don't know what to do.

Liz is a very smart girl but her grades are poor and she is so far behind now she wants to quit and start over next semester. She is only 14 and I hate to see her louse up her education the way I did.

The doctors can't find anything wrong with Mom but she insists she is sick and can't get out of bed some mornings. I have given up trying to help Mom but I cannot give up on my little sister. What should I do?

Rope's End

Dear R. E.: Children should not be kept home from school to care for ill members of the family. A day or so in an emergency is okay, but the situation you describe will surely lead to the end of your sister's education. Call your clergyman (or any clergyman) and ask to be put in touch with an agency that will give you the help you need.

* * *

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self addressed, stamped envelope.

'City Didn't Spend Enough on Sewers'

By LEO SCHERER
Second of a Series

Lincoln's failure to spend enough money in past years to maintain an adequate storm sewer system is one of the major reasons why the city is now faced with a $20 million improvement program.

Acting Public Works Director Robert Obering said the present 100 miles of storm sewers will get "progressively worse" if something isn't done about them soon.

"We have failed to keep up to date," said Obering. "There was little storm sewer money spent during the 1931-46 period."

Lincoln's problems have increased because the storm sewers built by the state, Lancaster County and the defunct Sanitary District No. 1 are now owned and must be maintained by the city.

Key Factors

Obering said key factors causing the present system to lag include:

Deterioration — Some existing storm sewers, built before 1930 are deteriorating. They show signs of bad joints, tree-root intrusion and structural failure. These problems are beyond the scope of normal maintenance.

Size — Many sewers, especially in the older sections of Lincoln, were adequate in size when built but are now inadequate. Reasons include increased use by more people, age, and greater runoff.

Inlets — Some parts of the system do not have enough inlets to handle runoff during heavy rains. Others have inadequate inlet capacity and are beyond the scope of normal repair.

City Growth — The growth of Lincoln through annexation and new construction has put new burdens on the present system.

Lincoln voters approved the city's last storm sewer bond issue in 1954.

The nearly $3.5 million program included $2.9 million for storm sewers and drainage work. $361,000 for Antelope Creek and $200,000 for Dead Man's Run.

Of this, the city still has $2.1 million in outstanding bonds. These will be retired in 1978.

131 Projects

City Engineer Richard Erixson said the 1954 plan consisted of 131 projects, for which bond funds were exhausted early 1960.

Some key projects completed under the program were bridges at 33rd & Baldwin and 48th & Colby and large storm sewers from 66th & Kearney to Salt Creek, 35th & O to 39th & L, 41st & Adams to 32nd & St. Paul, 70th & Fairfax to Dead Man's Run, 14th & Pawnee to 11th & Harrison, and Cotner Blvd. from A to Sumner.

"One of the most important elements in the physical makeup of today's modern city is its storm sewer and drainage system," said Obering. "Any city with an inadequate system will find itself becoming very seriously handicapped in maintaining safe and healthy environment for its residents."

Lincoln's recommended 20-year program calls for storm sewers able to handle runoff from severe storms that would generally occur every five years.

An exception is the central business district, whose sewers would have the capacity to handle storms with a 10-year frequency.

Drainage problems, such as this one near 68th and Adams, have increased. City officials say a storm sewer improvement program is needed.

Clatonia Case
Men Enter No Pleas
Trio Charged With Robbery

Beatrice—Three men were bound over to District Court here Tuesday in connection with the Jan. 22 robbery of a Clatonia farm family.

Bond was continued, by Gage County Judge Dennis Winkle, at $20,000 each for Robert Lee Hunter, 30, Lincoln, Armand E. Mason of Lancaster County and Eugene Paul Oziah, 32, of Kearney.

The trio did not enter pleas at preliminary hearings Tuesday. A District Court trial date will be set after preliminary hearing transcripts are filed.

All three are charged with two counts of robbery and are accused of entering the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Blome, binding the couple and their daughter, Patty, 12, threatening them and robbing them of jewelry and money.

Mason and Hunter are also charged with being habitual criminals.

District Judge Applications Are Screened

Dakota City—A seven-man nominating committee to screen applicants for the position of District Court Judge in the Eighth Judicial District, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston and Cedar Counties met here behind closed doors.

Applicants who had filed for the position created by the appointment of District Judge John E. Newton to the Nebraska Supreme Court by Gov. Norbert Tiemann were:

—Dakota County Judge Joseph E. Marsh, 58, South Sioux City, who has served as county judge 26 years.

—Norris G. Leamer, 42, South Sioux City, who has practiced law in the city since 1961.

—Dakota County Attorney Cecil W. Orton, South Sioux City.

—Frank J. Kneifl, South Sioux City attorney in private practice.

—Dave Curtis of Laurel.

The committee was to select at least two nominees to be forwarded to Gov. Tiemann. The committee was appointed by former Gov. Frank Morrison and, according to law, was required to include members of both major parties.

Ditka, Gabriel Wait in Wings for Pro Grid Showdown

Roman Gabriel
Watching

New York (AP)—The pro football merger might have ended the raiding war, but at least two players, Mike Ditka and Roman Gabriel, were not yet ready Thursday to surrender.

Ditka, one of the top tight ends in the National Football League with the Chicago Bears, and Gabriel, starting quarterback with the NFL's Los Angeles Rams, are considering jumping to American League clubs if the money is right.

"I've got a valid three-year contract with Houston of the AFL," Ditka said. "I won't say for how much, but they gave me a $50,000 bonus to play out my option with the Bears last season. I keep that no matter what. It's in the bank."

But the six-year veteran who has twice made all-NFL did leave a way out of the fray.

"The Houston people have said they will forget about it to keep peace if the Bears give me the same contract I have with the Oilers," Ditka said.

"The big problem on the Bears is a matter of communication between the players and the coaches. This situation never would have come about if Halas (Chicago owner and coach George Halas) had listened reasonably."

He accused Halas of "trying to pay players with salaries of the 1940s and 1950s."

Gabriel, who reportedly signed with the Oakland Raiders of the AFL for 1967, was quoted by sports writer George Ross of the Oakland Tribune as saying:

"I am laying back to see what is going to happen. It's more or less up to me at this point."

A Raider spokesman said Oakland "feels an obligation to Roman and we feel we are obligated to uphold our end of the contract."

After the Raiders announced the signing of Gabriel, the Rams said he had signed a 1966 contract with them apparently with an option on his services in 1967.

Gabriel and Ditka apparently negotiated with the AFL teams before the merger last summer. At the time of the merger, it was agreed there would be no trades between leagues until 1970 when the merger goes into effect.

Before that when players completed their options and moved to another team, the league commissioners worked out a transaction in which the old team got a satisfactory return.

No such case has been brought before Commissioner Pete Rozelle since the merger. A spokesman for the NFL said no case would reach Rozelle until the club or player involved requested a ruling.

Ditka, whose contract with Chicago runs out May 1, said he expected his case to be discussed at the AFL meetings beginning Monday in Miami Beach, Fla., and a week later at the NFL meetings in Honolulu.

General Manager Don Klosterman of Houston said the Oilers likely will make a statement just before the AFL meeting.

Halas said "we will make a statement at the appropriate time."

Southeast Swimmers Primed For State

Dan Dermyer

Omaha—Lincoln Southeast and Omaha Westside, co-champions a year ago, are primed for another spirited battle in the state high school swimming championships this weekend.

The sentiment in the Metropolitan ranks favors host school Westside to end Southeast's long domination of the meet in competition here Friday and Saturday.

Southeast had won seven straight undisputed titles prior to last year's deadlock with Westside, a steadily improving team over the past few years.

Expected to aid the Westside cause this time is the adoption of a new 12-place scoring system instead of the former 6-place system. Depth thus becomes the dominating factor and this appears to be the strong suit for coach Cal Bentz' aggregation.

Champions in five of the eight individual events return, Southeast claiming three and Westside a pair.

Leading the Southeast bid again will be Dave Schmidt and Stan Ewing. Schmidt copped backstroke and individual medley crowns while Ewing claimed the breaststroke title here last year.

The top hand returning for Westside is freestyler Steve George. He won the 200 and 400-yard events in handy fashion last year, but has been specializing in shorter races this year.

Teammate Scott Skultety will be entered against Southeast's 1-2 punch of Schmidt and Ewing in the individual medley and will also go against Schmidt and Lincoln High's Dan Dermyer in the backstroke.

The Warriors have a wealth of freestylers with Roger Hawkins and Bob Hurst joining George to present a solid lineup.

Lincoln High sprint freestyler Phil Lind and Southeast's Scott Wright and Kelly Cook — the Capital City leaders— will challenge the Westside freestyle contingent.

Southeast coach Don Copas is looking to some of his younger and lesser known swimmers to provide the depth needed to match Westside.

The Knights didn't meet Westside during the regular season, but both teams were matched against Lincoln High in early duals and the comparative scores there gave Westside a slim edge.

Swimming preliminaries are to begin at 11 a.m. Friday with the preliminary diving competition scheduled at 7.

The championship program Saturday begins at 1:30 p.m.

Steen's Had Enough; He'll Retire in '68

By John Armstrong
Associated Press

Nebraska's controversial State Game Commission Director, Mel Steen, said Thursday he will retire next year.

"I've had enough," said Steen, "and I'm 70 years old. I wanted to quit five years ago but the commission wouldn't let me."

The disclosure came one day after legislative controversy erupted when lawmakers received a game commission request for permission to rent a building at 3830 Adams St. in Lincoln.

"It is discouraging to be constantly criticized for trying your best in public office to do the most good for the most people" said Steen, who has headed the game department since 1956.

Steen noted that his current six-year term as game director will end on July 1, 1968. "I won't stay on after that," he said.

Steen's stormy reign as Nebraska game czar began 11 years ago when he resigned as chief of Missouri's fish and game division to accept the top Nebraska post.

Mel Steen
Discouraged

The director said he believes most of the criticism against him has resulted from his refusal to "bend to political pressure" and his aggressiveness in pushing for game and tourism improvements.

"We have always operated in full compliance with the dictates of the Legislature," said Steen. "I would be very happy to have the Legislature take a look at Mel Steen and his official activities.

"We would welcome an impartial investigation because the only possible result that can come from unveiling the real truth about our activities will be to improve our image and discredit our critics."

Wednesday's criticism of Steen and his department came after Valentine Sen. Elvin Adamson moved for approval of the Game Commission's rental request. He withdrew the motion after the complaints.

"We have a few enemies on the floor (of the Legislature) for one reason or another," said Steen. "It's largely because we have refused to bend to political pressure and because of my aggressiveness.

"And I'm an easy scapegoat. Some of them (legislators) like publicity, and I make good copy."

Knight Wrestling Coach Predicts Tough District

By RILEY HALL

Trans-Nebraska wrestling champion Southeast moves into the district meet Friday highly favored but the competition could prove to be keen.

Lincoln High, Northeast and Pius X also are entered along with Columbus, Beatrice, Hastings and Grand Island.

The meet, scheduled at Northeast, will begin at 7 p.m.

Southeast compiled 94 points in the Trans-Nebraska meet through the efforts of four first place finishers and two seconds in the championship round.

The four firsts were wrapped up by seniors Al Spencer 103, Mike Adams 133, Bob Pewthers 154 and junior Joe Martin in the heavyweight division.

"We should be in shape for the district and we only hope we do as well as we did in the Trans-Nebraska two weeks ago," Knight coach Gail Baum said.

"But this is a different meet and the boys will have to be up for it," Baum added. "There will be more teams and the points will be spread around more."

Dick Boline
Undefeated Rocket

Northeast will pin its hopes on senior Dick Boline who is undefeated so far in the 165-pound division. Dick won the Trans-Nebraska title and placed first in the Omaha North Invitational earlier in the season.

The Rockets' only other conference winner was Doug Erickson in the 120-pound class. Doug stands 11-1 for the current campaign, his only loss coming in the Omaha North meet.

"We're disappointed in our fifth place conference finish and we're certainly hoping to finish higher than that in the district," Rocket coach John McIntyre said. "Hastings looked good in the conference meet and we may find the points bunched closely together."

Injury trouble has forced its way into the Lincoln High camp as Kenny Braun has a jammed nerve in his neck and is out for the remainder of the season.

Orta, 14-0 for the season in the 95-pound class, holds the key for the Links along with their only other Trans-Nebraska winner, George Lytell.

Pius X swings into the meet with Dick Caster in the 180-pound division as its top man.

"I think we're showing signs of life," Pius coach Charles Rush noted. "The Nebraska City meet was very good for us and we came out with a better idea of our strength.

"The 180-pound class should be exciting to watch. Dick is 9-1-1 for the year and his only loss was to a Fremont boy. His tie was with Steve Kyles of Northeast.

Other Pius X state meet hopefuls are Tom Clark (103), Bill Keefe (127) and John Bonde (165).

The top three wrestlers in each weight class advance to next week's state meet at the University of Nebraska.

Lincolnite Gets Post At Atlanta

Back in 1955 Jack Carlin was the manager of a baseball team. He was Lincoln High's student manager.

Thursday Carlin was named manager again. This time its business manager of the Atlanta Braves.

He replaces Dick Cecil who steps up to assistant to the chairman of the board and president of the Braves, William Bartholomay. Cecil is also a former Lincolnite.

Carlin, 29, graduated from Lincoln High in 1955 and from the University of Nebraska in 1960. He earned a Master's degree from NU in 1963.

He spent two years in the Lincoln School system as a counselor at Millard Lefler Junior High and joined the Braves in November of 1965.

His first position in the National league team's organization was in the downtown ticket office.

Shortly thereafter he moved out to the ball park as associate director of stadium operations, handling customer services and hiring the part-time personnel needed to work during both the Braves' baseball games and Atlanta Falcons' football games in their first season in the Georgia city.

At the first of this year Carlin became assistant business manager under Cecil which lasted until Thursday.

"It's just terrific," Carlin said from his office phone in Atlanta. "Atlanta's a terrific city and has great versatility for sports. It's going to be a great challenge."

Carlin also was a student manager for coach Tony Sharpe's Nebraska baseball team for which Cecil once served as an assistant coach.

Carlin played American Legion baseball in Lincoln and is said to have been swift afoot in the outfield but somewhat light with the bat.

USTFF Lashes Out At AAU

New York (AP) — With the field for the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet here Friday growing ever smaller, the National Collegiate Athletic Association, parent body of the Federation, has lashed out at the Amateur Athletic Union.

An NCAA statement issued Wednesday gave further evidence that the fight for control of amateur track and field in the United States, which has been dormant while a federal commission studies the matter, is flaring up again.

The latest bone of contention is the presence at the Federation meet of foreign athletes who study at American colleges. The AAU claims these athletes can only compete in meets it sanctions. The NCAA says they can compete anywhere until the matter is finally resolved.

The NCAA's statment Wednesday blasted the AAU for "trying to discredit and disrupt" the Federation meet, but said such effort have been "rebuffed by NCAA members who have entered foreign athletes."

Kuebler Not Just Slugger

By RICK AKIN

A year ago at this time, John Kuebler went to the Midwest Golden Gloves tournament as an alternate. A greenhorn, little could be expected of him.

Aggressiveness, however, made John "the most promising" boxer at the Midwest as he finished runner-up to Paul Fisher of Omaha in the middleweight (160-pound) division.

"I wasn't much of a boxer last year," John says. "I was just aggressive and kept them in the corners.

"This year I think I'm a better boxer," he says. "Now I box instead of slug."

Conceding boxing betters slugging on offense, Kuebler also admits: "This way I don't get hit as many times either."

His change into a boxer began last spring — not on punching bags, not in a ring, but in front of a mirror.

"We have this big mirror at home," Kuebler says. "In my spare time I'd just shadow box in front of it. I'd go maybe three or four rounds."

Sparring against himself improved his form, timing and footwork but couldn't add much strength. He did that with a bathtub.

"I worked last summer as a plumber's helper," he says. "Sometimes I'd lift bathtubs. I think that helped a little."

This winter Kuebler says he worked hard and ran longer to train and will be a strong contender for the 160 title in this year's Midwest.

The Golden Gloves tournament begins Friday at Omaha's Civic Auditorium and concludes Saturday. The first bout both nights will be at 8 p.m.

I May Be Wrong

By Curt Mosher
Journal Sports Editor

You can blame it on inefficiency or downright laziness But I have always been a strong believer in traveling light For that reason I have never been able to reach into my satchel and come up with a step ladder and tape measure when I was around Don Smith

This bit of carelessness has and will prevent me from writing a statistical expose, but a source close to the scene has me convinced that Smith is the Jack Benny of the Big Eight.

Like Benny who wont admit to anything more than 39 Smith wont admit to anything more than 6-8 But my source has me convinced that Smith could very well be among the tallest trees ever to grow in Brooklyn

My source is Smith himself, the Iowa State basketball center who will lead the Cyclones against Nebraska Saturday night in the Coliseum Smith needs only a pouch and tail to qualify for the kangaroo picnic, which as everyone knows is a really jumping affair.

A Complex Yet

The concern over Smith's height has created but two things a terrific headache and a fistfull of records

In the Sun Devil Classic in Phoenix this winter Smith went up to block a shot and darn near got his block knocked off. He went one-on-one with a backboard and lost

'I hit my head on the bottom of the backboard," Smith says It didn't really knock me out But it stunned me for awhile I didn't know what happened

The records are Iowa State career records He's only 99 shy of the 674 rebounds grabbed by Vinnie Brewer and he has next year and the rest of this one to get that one He also has the single game record of 24 "I think I'm taller than 6-8 he grins "Don Sidle is supposed to be 6-8 and I tower over him Drake's Bob Netolicky is supposed to be 6-8 and I tower over him

So why not measure?

"I'm not going to," Don says. "I'd rather be 6-8 I'd hate to find that I was 7-3 or something. It might give me a complex "

Others Get Complexes

As it is, Smith may not get a complex, but others will

"He's a great player at both ends of the court," says Oklahoma coach Bob Stevens "Know something? He makes you shoot differently just like UCLA's Lew Alcindor

Smith hurries you and makes you shoot the ball higher. Just like Alcindor. And the thing that surprised me most was the way he can shoot outside."

No one questions but what Smith, along with Stuart Lantz of Nebraska, Jo Jo White of Kansas and Sidle of Oklahoma are the best players in the Big Eight so it isn t surprising that his coach Glen Anderson is such a cheerleader

"Smith is the greatest we have ever had," Andy says He s tops in the Big Eight in my mind In addition to his scoring, his tremendous jumping ability lets him block shots only the seven-footers are supposed to be able to reach "

Takes One to Recruit One

In case you're curious how the catapulting cager escaped from Brooklyn to play for Iowa State, the answer is Henry Whitney a former Iowa Stater also from Brooklyn Whitney, too, was one of those leapers

Smith's YMCA coach knew both and arranged for them to meet They played together and Whitney recommended that Smith make his winter home in Ames.

That Smith is doing so well is remarkable in that it was only last August he was on the brink of mononucleosis He says he still hasn't fully recovered from the fatiguing experience

Smith does have a weakness according to Anderson. He tips it off when he's going to have a good night. His hands perspire

NU coach Joe Cipriano is hoping he doesn t have to have extra towels for the big fellow Saturday night in the Coliseum

Wrestling District Meets Set

A new dimension is added to the Nebraska high school wrestling picture this weekend as prep grapplers enter district competition to qualify for next week's state championships

This year marks the first time that the wrestlers have been divided into three classes—A, B and C. The lower class includes all schools classified C or D for basketball competition.

The extra class means that 432 state meet tickets will be up for grabs in the competition at 12 district sites Friday and Saturday

Defending Class A champion Omaha South hosts one of the Class A districts and will find Tech and Bishop Ryan—last year s No 2 and 3 finishers—on hand for the competition

The other hotbed of Class A competition will be at Sidney, where Sidney and Scottsbluff headline the field The two western powers were fourth and fifth in the Class A team race last year and have been enjoying excellent seasons.

The 1966 Class B leaders—Albion and O'Neill—are entered in district competition at Albion.

Lexington and Cozad, 1-2 finishers in last week's Southwest Conference meet, headline the entries at Holdrege.

The Class C division, which includes several contenders used to competing in Class B and a host of schools relatively new to the sport, will have eliminations at Milford, Gibbon, Bertrand and Rushville.

The district lineups:

Class A

At Northeast — Beatrice Columbus, Grand Island, Hastings, Lincoln High, Northeast Pius X, Southeast

New City Parks and Recreation Building at 2740 A.

Becomes Rec Center in Few Weeks

Fire Station Transformation Coming

A visit with city recreation superintendent Bob Dula always reveals innovations, all of which are interesting to some The latest chat includes

The vacated fire station at 12th and F Sts. is scheduled for opening as a recreation center late in February.

The first floor of the three-story, refurbished structure will be devoted to senior citizen programs with the other two for activities such as crafts, reading, a BB gun-range, a social room, and a stage

A $26,000 federal grant for senior citizen programs is a boost, Dula said

Dula also said that any volunteer help for conducting classes would be appreciated There is a shortage of funds for this fiscal year

The Fire Insurance Underwriters have already kicked in $1,200 for fireproof, vinyl curtains.

Another fire station is scheduled for conversion to a rec center when the fire department moves into its new building at 19th and Q Sts That center will be at 23rd and O

Dula noted that changing the stations was simplified by the fact that they were maintained well and he also appreciates their swiftness in moving

The second center will have arts and crafts on the second floor and basement Social activities — Ping Pong, pool and games—will be held on the first floor.

The recreation department along with some members of the park department are getting settled in their new offices at 2740 A. It's a light, airy place to work to replace the crowded conditions for an expanded staff in Pershing Auditorium.

Dula also said that fencing would be extended at Muny Diamonds which will ease the pressure on those shagging foul softballs Two new sets of bleachers will be installed on the two south diamonds at Muny

Baseball backstops will go up at Woods and Cooper Parks.

And there will be new chain link fencing on the tennis courts at Cooper, Peter Pan, Belmont and University Place.

Uni High Nears End Of Slate

Lincoln University High engages its 12th and 13th Class B opponents this week as it nears completion of one of the toughest schedules in Class C ranks.

Dale Snooks' Tutors, 6-8 for the campaign, are 5-6 against their Class B foes and 1-2 against Class C opponents thus far.

Traditional rival Minden, ranked No 6 in Class B, brings a 10-2 record into Lincoln for a Friday night battle at the Coliseum and the Tutors follow up Saturday night against David City, this game being scheduled at the Southeast gym

Quake Rocks Colombia; Casualty Toll May Soar

Bogota, Colombia (UPI)—A violent, destructive earthquake centered in the central Andes rocked the capital city and a large area of Colombia Thursday.

Police reported 25 dead and 40 injured on the basis of fragmentary reports, but press dispatches said at least 30 had been killed and 100 seriously injured.

The quake shook up an area from Bogota west to Cali and the Pacific. Communications were severed with the disaster area and authorities feared death and damage estimates would soar as wires were restored.

Tens of thousands of persons fled into the streets in panic.

The quake was centered in the central Andes range running north and south up and down Colombia, following the Pacific coastline. Some of the country's most heavily populated areas were affected.

The shock, first recorded at 9:34 a.m. CST, lasted approximately two minutes. The Andes Geophysics Institute said the force of the quake knocked needles off seismographic instruments.

The quake trapped thousands of workers in factories and office buildings in Bogota. They poured into the streets from doors and windows in panic.

The government decreed a state of emergency to coordinate relief work. Cable office employes set up emergency transmitters to handle reports of the quake to the outside world. As they worked, pieces of roofing and shattered glass rained on their machines.

The breakdown in communications made immediate assessment of casualties and damage difficult.

The shock was also felt in Ecuador and Venezuela.

U.S. Employment Is Up

Washington (AP)—The nation's total employment hit a record January high of 72 million in what the Labor Dept. described Thursday as a dramatic show of strength despite other slipping economic indicators.

At the same time, the nation's unemployment rate remained at 3.7% last month, indicating that "people have been drawn into the labor force" because of the bright job picture, said Commissioner Arthur Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Ross said total employment had shown "surprising" strength in rising 1.2 million since last September.

He said the usual drop in jobs after the Christmas season was less than usual, indicating employers had kept away many temporary workers to fill permanent job vacancies.

The bureau said eliminating 14-year-old and 15-year-old workers probably reduced the jobless rate about one-tenth of 1%.

Except for farm jobs, which remained about the same, employment increases were registered in all major industries except Construction.

King Hassan Visits LBJ

Washington (UPI) — President Johnson welcomed King Hassan II of Morocco at the White House Thursday for a discussion of Vietnam peace efforts and other global issues.

Johnson expressed hope that during Hassan's brief visit, they would have an opportunity to talk about pressing matters, particularly peace and "reconciliation of all people and all nations."

The President said he was speaking not of "peace at any price with one nation dominating another, but a peace of equality and negotiation and compromise, and not by military force."

Hassan stood beside the President listening intently as an interpreter whispered in his ear. The Moroccan king in his response made a rather strong bid for Johnson to visit North Africa, particularly Morocco.

Among the topics the two will touch upon is U.S. military and economic aid to Morocco.

Witnesses Subpoenaed

Washington (AP)—The chairman of a select committee investigating the qualifications of Adam Clayton Powell for the House seat said Thursday the Harlem Democrat's estranged wife and his frequent traveling companion have been subpoenaed to testify.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Mrs. Y. Marjorie Flores Powell and Miss Corinne Huff have been subpoenaed to appear before the committee next Tuesday, along with representatives of three airlines which fly from Miami to the Bahaman Isle of Bimini.

Celler said the committee also re-invited Powell, who Wednesday refused to answer any questions dealing with his New York court troubles and with his alleged misuse of government travel funds while chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor.

Representatives of the General Accounting Office, which audited the committee's records, and an expert in "the nuances of the contempt cases" against Powell in New York courts will also appear next week Celler said.

'Missile Plan Favored'

Washington (AP) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff are supporting a plan to provide special protection against nuclear-tipped enemy missiles for 50 American cities, the Evening Star reported Thursday.

Most of the 50 largest cities in population are on the list of 50 to be protected, the Star said, but there are exceptions — among them Omaha, Neb., site of the Strategic Air Command's headquarters.

On the other hand, Charleston, S.C., is included, presumably because of the Polaris submarine base there, the Star said. The story does not give a list of the cities.

Despite opposition to the plan from Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, most and perhaps all of the Chiefs of Staff plan to support the 50-city proposal before Congress this year, the newspaper said.

The Joint Chiefs plan, it said, is to provide a "thin" defense of long-range Spartan missiles to cover the entire United States, with 50 cities to be given the added protection of short-range sprint missiles.

The Spartan missiles would be designed to intercept enemy missiles out in space several hundred miles from their targets. The sprint would try to catch those penetrating the initial defense as they descended on cities or military bases.

School Board 'Meeting Time Check' Requested

The Lincoln Board of Education will be asked to confirm a statement made by Board Member John Lux that board meeting times can be changed at any time by a vote of members.

The request will be made by the Lincoln Area Council of Parent-Teacher Associations. Council President Mrs. Gladys Hipple told members of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Education.

The committee had requested the board at its meeting last month to consider shifting meeting times from morning to evening.

A survey of the larger cities in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Colorado and university cities in the Big Eight Conference indicated that Lincoln is the only one of 27 cities in which regular school board meetings are held in the morning.

Mrs. Robert Beggs observed that "public dissatisfaction with the Lincoln Board stems from the feeling of the public that the board does not feel its responsibility to the public."

With five businessmen on the board, she said, the body is not as diversified as it should be.

Robert Johnson, chairman of the Lincoln Education Assn.'s slary committee, presented a preliminary report on the LEA's salary proposals for 1967-68.

He noted that his committee had abandoned the list of schools used in previous years to make salary comparisons and had adopted in its place the list used by the school's personnel department.

Johnson's survey of the 35 cities on the list showed that Lincoln ranked No. 32 in minimum salary with a B.A. degree, No. 23 in the B.A. maximum, No. 34 in the M.A. minimum and No. 27 in the M.A. maximum.

Average salaries in the four categories with Lincoln salaries in parentheses: $5,327 ($5,050); $8,172 ($7,850); $5,754 ($5,400); $9,342 ($8,600).

Although the LEA salary proposal will not be offered to the school board until it is ratified by the full membership of the organization, Johnson said if the over-collection of some $400,000 in intangible taxes this year were applied to salaries, the increases would cost taxpayers less than two mills.

Citing figures prepared by Lincoln Research Analyst Joe B. Williams, Johnson stated that while the cost of instruction had increased by 59.5% since 1961-62, the cost of salaries for instructional personnel had gone up by the following amounts: teachers, 35.1%; coordinators and directors, 75.5%; secondary principals, 67.3%; elementary principals 25.7%.

The committee heard a report from Richard Herman, substituting for Sen. John Knight of Lincoln on legislative bills affecting Lincoln schools.

4 Appointments Are Confirmed

By United Press International

The Legislature has confirmed without dissent four of Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann's appointments—the first submitted by the Republican chief executive.

Involved were Joseph Stanek, Omaha, state athletic commissioner; Wallace Farrar, Maywood, board of educational lands and funds; Jack M. Cleavenger, Lincoln, state employes retirement board, and Donald Duncan, advisory committee on public welfare and public institutions.

All are Democrats originally appointed by former Democratic Gov. Frank B. Morrison.

Lt. Yount, 22, Joins Salvation Army Staff

"I plan to try and fit in where needed and work from there," Salvation Army Lt. Donald Yount said.

Lt. Yount, 22, a native of St. Louis, Mo., has been appointed as assistant to Maj. Charles Wilke, in the organization's Youth Program.

Lt. Yount

Yount will assume his duties at the Salvation Army Youth Center, 1600 No. 27th, and assist in recreational programs for both girls and boys. Activities will include music, shop, various hobbies and sports for boys and knitting, cooking and other homemaking arts for girls.

"It's our belief," Yount said, "that to help a person, the total person, you have to work with their immediate self, you have to work with them as individuals to help them build their own character."

The young lieutenant will be at the center every afternoon. At first he will spend his time visiting families in the area using the center as well as others to encourage expanded use of the facilities.

Yount received his first introduction to the Salvation Army programs at 12 and he became a member of an Army sponsored Cub Scout pack. He entered regular Army programgs at 12 and became involved in the organization's Youth Program as a recreational leader.

In 1964, Yount qualified for training in the Salvation Army School for Officer Training in Chicago and graduated in 1966. A younger sister is presently undergoing training at the school.

Prior to his Lincoln assignment, Yount was stationed at Valley City, N.D. He resides at the home of Maj. Wilkes and his family, at 1800 Euclid.

Hall County Advised to Comply

By Associated Press

Attorney General Clarence Meyer said he had advised Hall County Welfare Department officials to comply with a District Court subpoena ordering them to turn over some confidential records to the Hall County grand jury now in session.

Meyer said the material is classified as confidential but not secret and may be examined by officials under prescribed circumstances.

The attorney general said he had discussed the question with the Hall County officials by telephone.

New York (AP) — Profit taking stopped a stock market advance, leaving prices mixed late Thursday. Trading was heavy.

Averages showed slight losses even while gains still outnumbered losses by a slight margin.

The market was higher at the start, reached a peak in an hour, then began to clip gains.

General Electric, which plans layoffs, slipped about 1½. General Motors, which goes ex-dividend Friday, fell nearly 2 points.

Considerable vigor remained among glamor issues.

Financial Highlights

Railroad Surgery 'Fatal?'

Chicago (CDN) — The suspension of the seven per cent investment tax credit could mean a cutback in new railroad equipment orders of at least $1.21 billion during 1967, according to a tax attorney for the Union Pacific Railroad.

Robert J. Casey told the annual meeting of the American Railway Car Institute here the suspension of the tax credit may have been necessary to cool down the economy as a whole.

"However, as applied to the railroad industry it represented . . . radical surgery which may well have killed the patient to cure the disease," he said.

Casey warned that the national freight-car shortage could only be worsened by the tax credit suspension.

Contract OKd

Chicago — Some 3,500 employes of Greyhound Corp.'s 19-state central division have ratified a new two-year labor union contract, covering driver, terminal and maintenance employes. Members of Amalgamated Transit Union okayed the settlement.

Coca Cola In Lincoln Is Sold

The Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Lincoln has been purchased for an undisclosed amount of money effective Thursday.

The purchase was by a newly formed corporation, the Lincoln Coca Cola Bottling Co., Inc. Officers and owners are: Virgil and Henry W. Browne, Wichita, Kan., and Jerry and E. W. Shawver II, Oklahoma City, Okla.

"We bought this plant because Lincoln is a wonderful town, a growing city," said Virgil Browne. "We have been friends with the O'Shea family and have been negotiating this for a long time."

The plant opened under the ownership of the Georgia Trust Co. April 1927. It was sold July 1958 to the Corporation headed by R.M. Batten, E. M. O'Shea Jr. and Mrs. H. W. Meginnis. Harry Meginnis has been president of the company since 1961.

The new corporation also has sites in Oklahoma, Colorado and Kansas. According to Virgil Browne they are interested in other plants throughout the country.

The plant will continue operations from the current location at 21st & G until plans have been firmed concerning expansion and possible construction of a new plant in a different area.

Expansion is due to the new company signing to bottle the soft drink Fresca. Lee Shaw of The Coca Cola Bottling Co. is in Lincoln to consummate the signing for that franchise.

Under the same corporation is the 1001 L Street bottling plant which handles Bubble-Up and Canada Dry. This location has 10,000 sq. ft of space. The Coke plant has 15,000 sq. ft. with 9,000 sq. ft. available for expansion to the west.

A new plant manager will be named shortly.

Church Roof Falls; None Killed

Baltimore (UPI) — The snow-covered roof of a Roman Catholic church collapsed Thursday during a Lenten service attended by about 90 worshippers, most of them children.

No one was killed although several persons were trapped in the rubble of the St. Rose of Lima Church and had to be pulled free by rescuers. Thirty-four persons were hurt, 15 of them seriously enough to be admitted to hospitals.

The Rev. Francis O'Brien had just concluded the offertory at the 7 a.m. CST mass when there was a rumble, according to Mrs. John Tillman, 66, a parishioner.

"We had just turned from the altar to face the congregation with his arms outstretched when the noise came," she said.

"He looked up at the ceiling and saw it start to buckle. He started screaming: 'Run, run, everybody run!' "

'Out of Trade School Area' Bill Introduced

By Associated Press

The Legislature accepted for introduction by a 39-0 vote Thursday an education committee bill permitting counties to vote themselves out of area trade school districts.

The measure, LB832, was the first to arrive in the Legislature since Jan. 30, which was the cutoff date for introduction of bills by individual senators.

Sen. Lester Harsh of Bartley has explained that the new bill would permit Red Willow and Dundy Counties to withdraw from the Southwest Nebraska Area Vocational Technical School District.

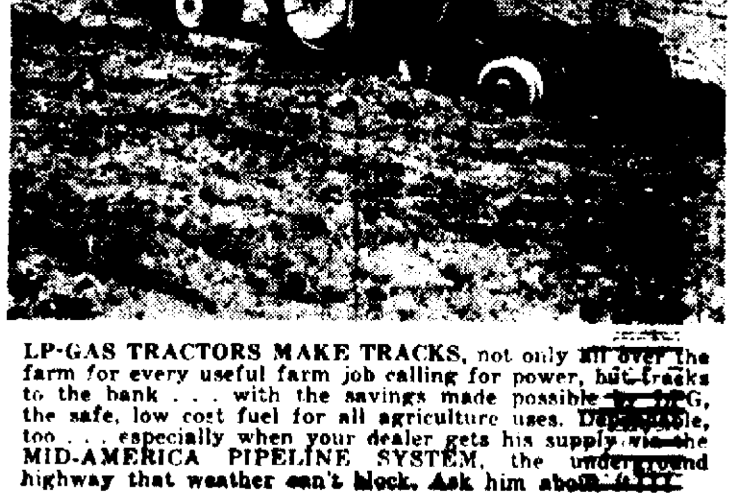

The two counties were proposed for inclusion in the district by county commissioners, but voters in the two counties voted against inclusion at the Nov. 8 election.

Police reports showed he was a passenger in a car driven by Calvin S. Pace, 69, Omaha, when it was in collision with one driven by Erma Wostoural of West Point. Neither driver was hurt. The boy suffered a head injury, police said.

Heckman Named At Doane?

Holds Yankton College Post

Phillip Heckman, vice president in charge of development at Yankton College, Yankton, S.D., has reportedly been named president of Doane College at Crete by the selection committee of the Doane College Board of Trustees.

Heckman, who has served with the Yankton school for the past 22 months, will take over the position from David Osterhout, who presently holds the position of acting president of Doane.

Osterhout, former chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, took the Crete post in September, 1966, succeeding Dr. Donald M. Typer, who resigned to accept the presidency of the Mississippi Valley College Assn. with offices in Chicago.

At the time of his appointment to the interim post it was announced, following the naming of a full-time president, Osterhout would become business manager of Doane.

Yankton College President Donald Ward said he and the school would be sorry to see Heckman leave because of the "great contribution" he had made to the school.

Heckman holds B.S. and M.A. degrees from East Strasberg State College in Pennsylvania, and was awarded his Ph.D. in Adult Education from New York State University.

No official announcement of Heckman's appointment is expected until the Doane College board meeting Feb. 18.

Both Heckman and Osterhout refused to comment on the appointment pending approval of the board.

Bill for Colored Ballots Gains

By Associated Press

Special municipal election issues could be placed on colored ballots under a bill given 7-1 approval by the Legislature's Urban Affairs Committee.

Proponents of the measure, LB168, said colored ballots would make identification of the special issue ballots easier for the voters and would make vote counting easier.

As originally introduced, the bill provided for colored ballots only for Omaha, but the committee amended the measure to include all cities and villages.

Also advanced by the committee was LB202, providing for reverter of vacated streets in Omaha when one side of the streets is adjacent to the Iowa state boundary.

High Court Will Hear Schuyler's Power Dispute

By United Press International

The Nebraska Supreme Court has agreed to hear Mar. 7 an appeal by the city of Schuyler to reverse an order by the State Power Review Board involving a disputed retail service area.

Schuyler contends the board acted arbitrarily when it denied the city's application to supply power to the Spencer Packing Co.

The Cornhusker Public Power District was assigned the customer. It had objected to the board the city's application.

The power board suggested in its order that the Legislature explore the possible need for new laws to permit cities to serve industrial areas outside of corporate limits, such as the Spencer Packing plant.

The high court will hear 23 other appeals during the week of March 6-10.

A Big Welcome for 'Virgil'

Alliance to Honor Native Son Boyd, Now Chrysler President

Alliance—A high school band, a Chamber of Commerce "pep squad" and just plain friends of a Nebraska boy who made good, anxiously awaited the arrival here Thursday of a sleek private jet from Detroit, Mich.

In New York or other eastern cities the arrival of the president of one of America's largest corporations wouldn't cause much excitement but here it was a different story.

To many, some young and others old, the opportunity to see the president of the giant Chrysler Corp. was something that doesn't happen every day.

But to others it was just going to be good to see Virgil E. Boyd, a one-time Alliance car dealer, city councilmean, and friend of many in this western Nebraska city.

As the homecoming crowd waited for the $1.5 million jet, many recalled when he had arrived here 16 years ago to become a car salesman.

Virgil E. Boyd

A Rapid Rise

And there were those who remembered when he left five years later to join American Motors Co., and his rapid rise to director of sales operations.

There was also talk about when he joined Chrysler Corp. in 1962 . . . about his determination and resulting rise to the corporation presidency in December, 1966.

A proud daughter, Mrs. Robert Ireland of Lincoln, summed up her feeling: "I always knew he had it . . . this ability . . . he just proved it."

Many national polls have indicated that more corporation presidents have come from "Ivy League" schools than from other colleges and universities. But Virgil Boyd's "college credits" came from Omaha's American Business College and helped him get his first job in the automotive field as a clerk at General Motors Acceptance Corp. in that same city in 1931.

$65.4 Million

During the first year Boyd was with Chrysler, earnings for the company jumped from $11 million to $65.4 million.

As Boyd, his wife and the other visitors winged their way to Alliance, ticket sales to Thursday night's Western Nebraska United Chambers of Commerce (WNUCC) banquet were ahead of any event ever held here.

State Sens. Jules Burbach and George Gerdes were also to be WNUCC guests. So was Dr. Clayton Yeutter, executive assistant to Gov. Norbert Tiemann, and M. J. Graham, former Alliance Chamber of Commerce manager who now is president of the Retail Merchants Association of Nebraska.

Boyd was scheduled to be the banquet speaker but guesses were that all of the visitors would have something to say.

In New York or Detroit it might be "Mr. Boyd" but in this Nebraska city Thursday it would be "Virgil."

Report Is Set On Rulo Bridge

Falls City (UPI) — State Engineer John Hossack has promised a Falls City delegation an early inspection and engineering report as a preliminary to Nebraska and Missouri taking title to the Rulo toll bridge over the Missouri River.

Russell Door informed Hossack that Richardson County, which owns the span, will have sufficieint funds on hand by April to pay off the remaining revenue bonds on the bridge.

Hossack said an inspection will be made jointly by Nebraska and Missouri. The report will cover the condition of the bridge, and the two states then will make requirements to put the structure in shape before they take it over.

Dedication Set May 7

Scottsbluff Hospital

Scottsbluff — Bishop Kenneth Copeland of the Nebraska Area Conference of the Methodist Church will officiate at the dedication of the new West Nebraska General Hospital and School of Nursing here set for May 7, hospital officials announced.

The moving of patients and operations from the old downtown hospital building to the new $4 million hospital has been tentatively scheduled for May 13.

Officials said no definite plans for disposition of the old building, once a hotel, have been made. It has been in community use for 43 years.

It will be two years this spring that construction started on the new hospital, with Weaver Construction Co. of Denver as general contractor.

The hospital originally was to have an 82-bed replacement capacity, which later was raised to 112 by the addition of 30 extended care beds on a fifth floor.

This fifth floor construction is not covered by federal Hill-Burton aid but the remainder is for a total $1.4 million. Another $1 million in contributions and grants will leave the hospital in debt about $1.5 million at completion.

Bible Baptist Church 'Gains'

The Bible Baptist Church, 14th and F, readied plans for the coming year at its annual meeting.

The Rev. Cecil Kramer reported that over the past year the church has gained "in every field of activity." Extensive improvements on the building are planned for the coming year.

Newly elected officers are: Lester Sipes, Harold Hall, and Lyle Williams, trustees; George Luehrs, financial secretary; Doris Luehrs, church clerk.

Libraries Wanting $115,000 Each Year

The Lincoln Library segment of the city's updated capital improvements program, as revised by the library board, calls for $115,000 support annually.

This, with a good chance of matching federal library construction aid, would be used for this priority of projects:

Provision of facilities for the Northeast Lincoln service area, Southeast Lincoln service area, and Belmont, West Lincoln and Lancaster County service area.

Library board members expressed regret that the six-year capital improvements revision due Feb. 24 in City Hall had to be made without the benefit of Library Consultant Fred Wezeman's survey of Lincoln's branch library needs.

Director Charles Dalrymple told the board Wezeman's survey probably won't be completed until April.

Regional Libraries

However, a preliminary report earlier by Wezeman indicated he apparently will recommend establishment of regional libraries within the city's service areas rather than replacing smaller, less adequate collection branches.

He also appears to favor bookmobile operation as a supplemental service within city and county.

Board members will make the final decision on how Lincoln's existing and future library service needs will be met, however, once the survey is in their hands.

Dalrymple and board members agreed also that existing branches will need certain repairs to keep going until new facilities are ready. Board members expressed concern about deteriorating features at Havelock and University Place branches.

The board was informed documents relating to wage pay determinations, etc., needed by Washington have been provided on the main Bennett Martin library addition. Also expected shortly is federal approval of the $124,000 library construction act aid approved last week by the Nebraska Library Commission.

A $9,316 payment, representing 50% of the amount paid by the county annually for library services to county residents, was acknowledged.

Construction Costs

Some board members questioned if construction costs should not be considered in county reimbursements after Dalrymple said the flat annual fee is based on the library system's operating costs only.

Mrs. Lois Collings, associate library director, and board member Mrs. Bennett Martin discussed plans for a contest Centennial exhibit at the main library, starting Mar. 1.

It will feature Nebraska ranch life treasures of the late Essie Davis and some of the early 1600 French furniture and books once owned by England's Neville Chamberlin and now the property of a former Nebraskan, Mrs. Martha McKelvie of Phoenix, wife of the late Gov. Sam McKelvie.

Power Contract Ok'd at Beatrice

Columbus—A contract for $267,589 for additions to the Beatrice substation has been approved by the Loup Power District board of directors. The contract was awarded to the Elliott Construction Co. of Omaha.

According to engineers, the additions are being done to care for increased use of electricity by the Norris Public Power District.

The work, which would double the capacity of the Beatrice substation, consists of installing larger transformers, sectionalizing the bus which in effect is providing a back up substation, and installing capacitors to maintain a good voltage supply.

Trade in your bug for a car.

You'll find that a car will do a lot of things that a bug will not. For example, the Renault 10 will cruise at 80mph while averaging an honest 35mpg. And when it comes to comfort, well, a car is a car and a bug is a bug. The Renault 10 has 4 doors (not 2). And it has 13 cu. ft. of luggage space, and enough legroom to seat a 6½ footer comfortably.
Still and all, you pay about the same for the Renault 10 as you do for the bug: $1647*
For the same money you might as well drive a car.

TEENA A GO GO

POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY MARY BRYSON

Children can ruin the covers on an expensive set of encyclopedias by hooking a finger in the binding at the top and pulling the books out of a tightly-packed shelf. Slanting shelves make it even harder to remove a book without tearing the binding.

Arrange your heavy reference books on straight, easy-to-reach shelves, with enough space between books so they can be pulled out without effort. Show children how books are damaged when they are picked up or pulled out of the shelf by the back binding.

Not all the wear and tear and destruction around a house can be blamed on the carelessness of children.
